Grieving Belgium Prepares To Bury Dead Queen Astrid

European Royal Households Plunged Into Grief as Leopold's Car Strikes Tree, Rolls Over Curb Into Lake of Lucerne.

TRAGEDY OCCURS DURING VACATION

Swiss Authorities to Open Official Investigation of Circumstances Surrounding Accident.

KUSSNACHT, Switzerland, Aug. 29.—Beloved young Queen Astrid, of the Belgians, met a violent death while on her vacation today, as did her father-in-law, King Albert, 18 months ago.

The 29-year-old mother of three children was fatally injured when thrown from a car which King Leopold, her husband, was driving. She died in his arms on the roadside, while a village priest gave extreme unction.

King Leopold was cut about the head. Although he was severely affected by nervous shock and was grief-stricken, doctors said he was in no danger.

Swiss authorities announced an official inquiry into the accident would be made.

The body of the queen was placed in a casket and taken to her Swiss villa. From there tonight Leopold began the sorrowful journey with it back home. A special Swiss train was ordered, which will be met by a Belgian train at the frontier.

On Funeral Train. Leopold, his shoulders thrown back and his head held high, watched the coffin, wound in black crepe and hid by flowers, put aboard the train.

Then he swung aboard a sleeping car. The train pulled out into the night for Brussels at 5:15 p. m. At the time of the accident, King Leopold was driving a car.

The injury which caused Astrid's death, a fractured skull, was similar to that which killed her father-in-law, King Albert.

Doctors who performed a hurried autopsy late today, said the forehead wound was in the same position as the one which ended Albert's life in his tragic fall.

Astrid retained her beauty in death. "Her face suffered hardly any disfigurement at all," said Sister Brun.

Revised AAA Held Legal in U. S. Court

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Judge Edwin R. Holmes today upheld the constitutionality of the AAA cotton processing tax in what attorneys said was the first federal court test of the taxing act since it was amended by Congress recently.

Judge Holmes sustained government attorneys who opposed the issuance of an injunction restraining Eugene Fly, federal internal revenue collector, from Mississippi, from collecting the processing tax from the Stonewall Cotton Mills at Stonewall, Mississippi.

They contended they "had no plain, complete and adequate remedy at law" and further the amendments adopted by Congress and approved by the President did not furnish "complete remedy."

BOARD DISMISSES FOUR POLICEMEN IN DRINKING CASES

C. W. Mauldin Is Among Those Discharged as War on Use of Liquor Is Continued by Committee

Four members of the Atlanta police department were fired last night as council's police committee continued unabated the war on drinking members of the department.

In addition, the committee stood firmly behind the discharge of other men although there were several petitions for reinstatement backed by considerable pressure.

C. W. Mauldin, patrolman, charged with shooting L. C. Brewer in a Fair street cafe, when the policeman allegedly was drinking, was dropped from the force by a vote of three to two, but over the protest of Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant, who asserted Mauldin was a good officer, that he had performed meritorious service and that inasmuch as he has been under suspension for 24 days, he should be put back to work.

Others Dismissed. The other officers dismissed were M. M. Johnson, Olin Williams and W. G. Scott, all of whom were charged with having been under the influence of intoxicants.

Patrolman S. L. Holloman was suspended for 15 days for failing to arrest Scott and Patrolman C. R. Allen, Holloman's partner, was ordered reprimanded in the same case.

Mauldin had killed two men previous to the shooting of Brewer, Chief Sturdivant told the committee.

The committee became divided immediately following Sturdivant's recommendation, and Councilman G. Dan Bridges, chairman, surrendered the chair to Councilman Howard Haire, vice chairman, in order to get a vote.

On the first roll call on the motion, Haire, Councilman George R. Lyle and Alderman Farris A. Mitchell voted against dismissal and Richards and Bridges for it.

"This is a shame," Richards said. "We cannot afford to keep a man who shoots another down on this department. It is a crime to do it."

"We ought to put every man we have ever discharged back on the pay roll and apologize to him for having discharged him," Richards said. "I usually give the policeman the benefit of the doubt, but this is a case in which I have no doubt. We should give the committee the right to vote."

Lyle then moved to reconsider the action of the committee in not voting.

BUSINESS IN SOUTH MAKES LARGE GAIN OVER LAST SEASON

Increased Retail Trade in Atlanta Area Shown by Federal Reserve Report Covering Sixth District.

Business conditions show substantial improvement in the six southern states that comprise the sixth federal reserve district, according to the reserve bank's summary for July, issued yesterday.

Increased strength in retail trade in the Atlanta area is noticeable in the report, while throughout the region healthy gains are shown in the volume of wholesale trade, in building permits and construction contracts awarded, in consumption of cotton and in debits to individual accounts.

Retail trade in the six states—Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee—declined from June to July by less than the usual seasonal amount and was greater than a year ago.

Retail Volume Greater. Atlanta's retail trade so far this year is 5.5 per cent greater than the volume of the same period in 1934. It was 15.9 per cent in July greater than it was in July a year ago. The volume for June, 1935, was 9 per cent under the average. The average gain from the entire district was 11.8 per cent.

In retail stock comparisons Atlanta showed a gain of 8.1 in July over that of June. The collection ratio was 26.4 per cent better than normal.

Atlanta's building permits showed a gain of 108.9 per cent, with 320 issued in July, 1935, as against 227 issued in July, 1934. Their value for July was $219,307, as against $104,367 for the corresponding month of 1934.

The reserve bank's comment on retail trade for the district is: "Department store sales declined 12 per cent from June to July and were 11.8 per cent greater than in July, 1934. On a daily average basis the decline from June to July was 15.4 per cent, which compares with the usual seasonal decline at that time of 22.2 per cent."

Building Reports. Building reports issued at 20 reporting cities during July increased only slightly over June but were nearly two and one-half times as large as in July, 1934, and for the seven months were 89.4 per cent greater than in the same period of last year.

Construction contracts awarded in the district as a whole rose 40.9 per cent from June to July and were 64.6 per cent greater than in July, 1934.

For the seven-month period retail awards have been 96.2 per cent greater in the district than in that of last year.

LINDBERGH CHILD IS CLAIMED FOUND

Hauptmann's Attorneys Refuse Immediate Fingerprint Comparison.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann announced today their investigation had found a child on Long Island who "might be the missing Lindbergh baby," but quickly decided against an immediate fingerprint check.

C. Lloyd Fisher, chief attorney for the condemned Bruno, carpenter, said "there is more than a possibility" the boy might be the kidnapped Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

"He said he would refuse to compare fingerprints until the authenticity of prints which New Jersey state police believed to be those of the flyer's son was established."

"They might be those of some other baby," Fisher said. "I don't say the baby my men have found is the Lindbergh baby. I merely say he might be."

Political Sprouts Learning Ropes

By IRVIN S. COBB. Copyright, 1935, by The North American Publishing Co., Atlanta, Ga.

FLA. STAFF, Aug. 29.—Youth will be served. The only trouble with this generation is that so often it insists on being served raw. But it's fine when the youngsters take interest in their government.

Last week, the Young Democrats met at Milwaukee and pointed with pride, and today I read where the Young Republicans are fixing to gather in Iowa and view with alarm.

Sometimes you find a "younger element" is merely a veteran political hack who's had his face lifted, but there's hope for the country if the adolescent saplings and the budding sproutlets thicken in the political thicket. Of course, both parties will continue to keep a few dependable specimens of the old stock for grafting purposes.

DRASTIC CHANGES IN TRAFFIC ASKED

FERA Survey of Atlanta Conditions Is Presented to Council Police Body.

Declaring that traffic conditions in Atlanta need drastic improvement, the Atlanta traffic survey report, authorized by the Georgia Emergency Relief Administration and carried out as a project of the FERA, was presented last night to the police committee of city council, which will consider it at another meeting.

The report takes cognizance of the fact that citizens dislike to hear visitors say that "they were welcomed to the city by the mayor and run off the streets by the motorists."

Directed by De Ford Smith and Barry Reid, the survey is a complete analysis of traffic conditions in Atlanta and the report 132 pages in length and profusely illustrated, contains criticisms and suggested corrective measures.

FERA spent $40,000 on the local survey and it is one of the most complete and painstaking traffic studies ever undertaken in the south, Keller F. Melton, director of safety, pointed out.

650 Copies Made. A total of 650 copies have been made, and every member of city council, civic organizations, those interested in traffic problems, the mayor and others have been sent copies. The entire report contains more than 200 pages. Burton W. Marsh, traffic engineer of the American Automobile Association, Washington, has reviewed the recommendations and has praised them.

Melton asserted last night that there are several additional copies of the survey available to those who want them. City schools already have received 80 copies and another 50 were furnished Fulton county schools.

In a letter to Melton, Chief T. O. Sturdivant, of the police department, praised the work and said it would be a distinct advance in solving a solution of the city's traffic problems.

67 Recommendations. A series of 67 recommendations in all were contained in the report, some of the most important of which follow:

1. A satisfactory accident report and system for making the reports the basis for dealing with the accident problem. It was pointed out that the police department now is developing such a system.

2. Changes in designations of various streets.

Insurance on Rogers Placed at $530,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Jesse H. Jones said today he had been authorized by Mrs. Will Rogers to announce her husband carried only $530,000 insurance.

The RFC chairman, an old friend, talked with her daily by telephone since Rogers was killed in an Alaskan plane crash.

Jones quoted Mrs. Rogers as saying first reports Lloyds, Ltd., of London, had paid a $2,500,000 accident insurance policy were erroneous. He said Rogers carried $250,000 in regular life insurance.

Electrical Graphs of Dreams Made By Current Generated Within Brain

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE. NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The electrical currents of the brain in sleep—possibly the stuff dreams are made of—are announced today with pictures in Science, the official journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

They show four kinds of electrical waves, named after their shapes as "trains," "spindles," "saw teeth" and "random," flowing from the entire brain during sleep.

The waves change their shape when the sleeper awakes, when he is spoken to, and when he becomes restless. They flowed from the heads of 11 persons, ranging in age from 5 to 48 years, either during an all-night sleep.

DEMOCRATIC SPLIT IS SEEN IN DEMAND FOR SMITH TICKET

Talmadge Asserts Party Should Name Standard Bearer 'Opposite From Roosevelt, Brain Trust.'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—A democratic party split into two warring factions, with republicans bombarding both, was projected into the next campaign today by William Randolph Hearst's proposal for a Jeffersonian democratic ticket.

As if to take quick advantage of the Hearst suggestion that Alfred E. Smith lead the conservative wing of the democratic party against President Roosevelt, Kansas republicans, rallied behind their governor—London. Hearst also had mentioned London as a possible republican color-bearer, along with Colonel Frank Knox, of Chicago. Among the conservative democrats whom he proposed should be aligned with Smith were Senator Byrd, of Virginia, former Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, and Governor Talmadge, of Georgia.

Aside from a hopeful pointing to the next democratic convention for a smoothing of differences, there was little comment from those mentioned by Hearst. It ran something like this: Smith at Raritan Township, N. J.—No comment.

Ritchie in London—"I have never subscribed to third party movements. I have always been a Jeffersonian democrat. My hope still is that the democratic party will return to democratic principles."

Talmadge in Atlanta—"I'm a democrat and as national democratic committeeman from Georgia it is my duty to fight for the principles of old-line democracy and try to help the party on to victory next year. We want to start them off on the right track, to approve of communistic policies and nominate standard-bearers opposite from Roosevelt and his brain trusters."

"The suggestion, as far as it applies to myself, is utterly absurd. There is not the slightest foundation for such an assumption."

There was no comment from London either on this or on the declaration by Curtis that he favored the Kansas governor for the republican nomination. Senator Chipper and Representative Hope, of Kansas, joined the former vice president in such declarations.

At Winslow, Ariz., Postmaster-General Easley, chairman of the democratic national committee, expressed belief there would be no substantial third party, "if any at all," in the near future.

The price—his full name is Henry William Frederick Albert—easily is the best athlete in the British royal family. A younger son, he has lived the rather dull life of a British army officer, enlivened only by sports and travel.

Handsome and mustached, he won renown at polo, steeplechasing, cross-country running and cricket.

Officially, he was entrusted only with those public functions for which the king, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York could not be spared. Included in these minor events was the coronation of the present emperor of Ethiopia.

As far back as 1923, rumor had him about to marry Lady Alice, daughter of the Duke of Beaufort, and her sister, Lady Mary Theresa, daughters of the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York could not be spared.

Included in these minor events was the coronation of the present emperor of Ethiopia.

Lady Alice's family has been illustrious in English history since 1606. Her father, Duke of Beaufort and of Queensberry, former captain in the royal army, is governor of the Bank of Scotland and chairman of the board of the North British railway.

Of the king's sons either married or engaged, only the Duke of Kent, the youngest, married royalty—the Greek princess, Marina. The others chose commoners.

Haile Acts To Halt Rumored Revolt Of Army Officers

Young Leaders Said Irritated by Delay, Urge Commanders To Take Things in Own Hands Before Italy Is Prepared for Drive.

EMPEROR TERMS TALK SUBVERSIVE

Desertion of Italian Somalis Confirmed as They Train Native Warriors in Machine Gun Art.

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The fighting lions of Ethiopia, grumbling over Emperor Haile Selassie's "delay," cringed under severe reproof today.

The emperor heard a group of younger officers had urged their comrades to take matters into their own hands, saying: "Why does our king delay? His months of procrastination have given Mussolini time to fatten thousands of soldiers, airplanes, tanks and artillery on our borders. We must resist this."

Stirred by Il Duce. He declared such talk a subversive activity against the government which would be punished rigorously.

The nation grew more war-minded as the Mussolini pronouncements became more aggressive. Priests of the interior, mindful of the fact that priests fought with spears against the Italians at Addis, offered to go to the front, considering the expected war a holy one. This was notwithstanding the fact they are exempt from military service.

Hawariate May Lead. From Paris came word Tecla Hawariate, minister to France, is ready to return to Ethiopia if Geneva fails to avert war and assume army command. He is a graduate of the old Russian Imperial Military Academy, of St. Petersburg. He has a brilliant war record, though he was once in chains for quarreling with the emperor as is today on the closest terms with his sovereign.

Authorities made preparations to avert a mimic air raid on the capital tomorrow.

Officials asked advice from foreigners, including Americans, as to what rules and regulations are usually issued to the population of their respective countries in the event of an air attack.

Moratorium Hinted. Further preparation for the eventual evacuation of Addis Ababa if deemed necessary was seen today in government instructions to magistrates to expel all men and women from the city who failed to prove they had business or a regular domicile in the capital.

A report the government intends to institute a general moratorium in order to stabilize the financial situation and prevent bankruptcies caused by the war, was accompanied by reports that the Franco-Ethiopian railway, which is French property, as the Italians hold only 10 per cent of the stock. The authorities were quoted as saying, however, if the Ethiopian government seizes the railway, they do not feel France can prevent attempts by Italy to cripple the line.

Deserters Train Natives. The desertion of several thousand Somali tribesmen from the Italian army in Gaden was confirmed today.

BRITISH FLEET LEAVES MALTA FOR CANAL

VALETTA, Malta, Aug. 29.—(UP)—The Mediterranean tonight became a center of warlike activity, second only to the east African frontiers, when British fleet Mediterranean fleet sailed for Suez—key to Italy's route to Ethiopia.

Departure of the warships—destroyers, British coast guard, and the sea—was accompanied by reports Premier Benito Mussolini plans a military occupation of Albania to protect his frontiers against the Little Entente.

Other reports said Italy is fortifying Sasebo island in the Bay of Avona in line with her policy to execute her Ethiopian policies along against a challenging world.

Huge throngs lined the historic harbors surrounding Grand Harbor to watch departure of the fleet on the 30th.

MRS. E. B. BARNES PASSES SUDDENLY

Secretary to State Oil Chemist Is Stricken on Street Car.

Mrs. Erin Bryan Barnes, secretary to the state fuel oil chemist, died yesterday morning at her residence, 15 Peachtree place, N. W., within an hour after she had been stricken while on her way to work.

Taken ill on a street car, she was taken hurriedly to her home and a doctor summoned, but she died before she could be transferred to a hospital. Death was attributed to a stroke resulting from a brain hemorrhage.

Mr. Barnes was the daughter of the late Professor Thomas L. Bryan, head of the Bryan Business College, and had been a resident of Atlanta for 25 years. She was a member of the Trinity Methodist church.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Geraldine Barnes and Mrs. James H. Patterson; two sisters, Mrs. Tommie Bryan Young and Mrs. Orrie A. DeLaPelle; a brother, Felix G. Bryan, and a nephew, Felix Bryan Jr.

Services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes, with the Rev. V. O. Starnes officiating. Pallbearers will be W. B. Harrison, George A. Patterson, D. E. Thrasher, Dr. Samuel Bennet, Charles B. Fryer, John Armistead and Pat Mell. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

RECORDER, POLICEMEN TO BRING AUTOS HERE

Headed by Recorder John L. Cone, of the second division, a group of Atlanta police officers left here yesterday to drive a fleet of 10 new police radio cars from Louisville to Atlanta.

The new cars were bought through Atlanta dealers, but delivery could not be had here as promptly as if they came from Louisville.

Others in the party of drivers include Councilman Frank H. Wilson, chairman of the garage committee of city council; City Garage Superintendent R. D. Jett and Police Lieutenant L. G. Carroll.

BAPTIST STUDY WEEK WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Officials Announce Training School Has Held Successful Session.

Hundreds of Baptist Training Union members will gather in the final session of the 1935 "Week of Study" tonight at the First Baptist church. Classes will start at 7 o'clock with the feature assemblies at 7:50 o'clock and the second class periods begin at 8:25. Tonight's sessions will bring to a close the successful week of training and study which is sponsored each year by the Atlanta Baptist Training Union Association. Officials of the association announced that due to inclement weather several out-of-town groups were unable to attend the school.

More than 3,000 students have enrolled during the week. Every church in the association sent large delegations. Druid Hills Baptist church had the most members register for the various classes, with more than 200, while West End, Oakland City, Park Avenue, Grant Park, Capitol Avenue and several other churches sent more than 100 members each.

Prizes Awarded. Winners in the week of study poster contest were announced last night. First award of $25.00, for the best senior poster, was won by Russell Pittsburg, of the Druid Hills church. Second place for seniors went to Pierce Aycock, and Sam DeFreese's entry from Jackson Hills Baptist won third place.

Posters made by Tom Blakely won both first prize of $1.50 and second place in the intermediate contest. Myra Thrallkill, daughter of the Rev.

T. B. Thrallkill, of South Side Baptist, won third place. The junior award of $1 was presented to Duella Wynn, of College Park Baptist. Second place for juniors went to Dorothy Whited, of Colonial Hills.

Contest Judges. Judges for the contest were J. E. Lambdin, Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Winnie Rickett, Raleigh, N. C.; Edwin S. Preston, Atlanta; William Hall Preston, Nashville, and Mrs. C. W. Outlaw, of Atlanta.

Inspirational addresses by Roland Q. Leavell, of Gainesville, Ga., and William Hall Preston, of Nashville, Tenn., will be heard in the feature assembly at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. Preston will speak in the main auditorium and Mr. Leavell will talk to the group in the chapel of the church.

FOREST DEVELOPMENT TO ATTRACT TOURISTS

U. S. Official Tells Nurserymen of Plans for Recreational Facilities.

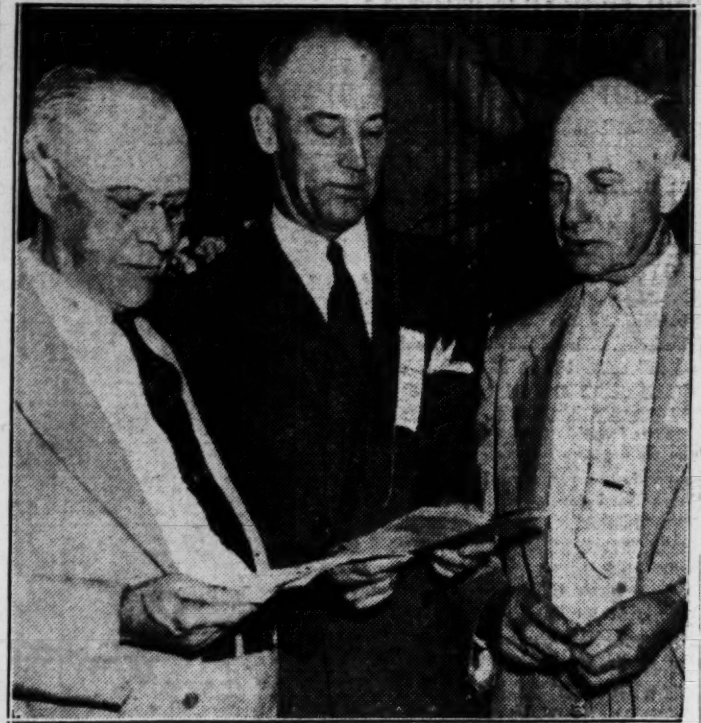

An outpouring of tourist dollars which will materially benefit business is promised in a government plan to develop recreational facilities in the 6,000,000 acres of southern national forests.

This declaration was the highlight of an address made yesterday before the Southern Nurserymen's Association in the Biltmore hotel by W. W. Bowers, government landscape technician.

"This great southern domain," Mr. Bowers said, "affords unrivaled opportunities for recreational enjoyment by the citizens of the country without interfering with the primary functions of protecting watersheds and conserving timber."

"Our plan is to develop these opportunities by building attractive roads, picnic areas, camp sites, recreational lakes, well-stocked fishing streams and the setting aside of areas

Southern Nurserymen Hold Annual Meeting

suited to the building of summer houses by private individuals under special-use permits."

W. L. Monroe, of Atlanta, president of the association, told the members that the profession has advanced from the classification of "fruit tree agents" into the field of fine arts. "We should feel grateful to the landscape architect and the landscape gardener for the advances made in our profession in the last 25 years. Our association should recognize these men and women. I would suggest that we call ourselves the Southern Nurserymen and Landscape Association," he said.

The annual banquet was held last night in the Biltmore and today's concluding session will open with a talk on soils by J. Lee Smith, of Gainesville, Fla. M. S. Yonemans, Georgia state entomologist, will discuss competition and co-operation in the field. Dr. T. H. McElhatten, of the University of Georgia; Daniel H. Bodin, Atlanta architect; John Fraser, of Huntsville, Ala., and Henry B. Chase, of Chase, Ala., are other speakers.

Annual reports, installation of new officers, and an auto trip to Stone Mountain will conclude the sessions. Mayor Key delivered an address of welcome when the convention opened yesterday morning. The invocation was delivered by Dr. H. W. Cox, president of Emory University. Speakers in addition to President Monroe and Mr. Bowers, included C. T. Smith, of Concord, Ga., who responded to Mayor Key's welcome; Harry J. Nettles, of Biltmore, N. C., and Kendall Weisiger, of Atlanta.

MAN SHOT IN HOLDUP RECOVERING AT GRADY
Wounded in an alleged holdup attempt, James C. Smith, of 200 Forrest avenue, N. E., was recovering in Grady hospital yesterday from effects of a bullet that shattered his right hip-bone.

Smith told police he was walking on Forrest avenue, near Courtland street, when a man stepped from a building and threatened him with a pistol. He scuffled with him, Smith said, and was shot.

The holdup man's victim managed to reach his home, from where police were called.

MRS. E. T. RODERMANN WILL BE BURIED TODAY

NURSES TO HONOR OFFICIALS TODAY

Open House Planned for President, Secretary of State Association.

Atlanta nurses will meet two officers of the Georgia State Nurses' Association to discuss state convention plans at an open house in their honor today at association headquarters, 131 Forrest avenue.

The two officials, Mrs. Dorothy Treaskle, of Savannah, president, and Miss Myrtice Young, of Augusta, secretary, are due this morning to prepare for an executive board meeting tomorrow. The convention opens November 4 in Macon.

Miss Annie Bess Feebeck will honor them at tea from 4 to 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Grady nurses' home. Rogers Baking Company here, died August 24, at his home in San Diego, Cal., at the age of 96, it was learned here yesterday.

JOSEPH ROGERS DIES AT CALIFORNIA HOME
Joseph Rogers, former head of the

Miss Jessie Candlish will be hostess at a reception for the visitors tonight in the nurses' hall at Eggleston Memorial hospital.

THREE MEALS A DAY
 HOME TESTED RECIPES
Sally Sawyer

A meat platter often looks bare and uninteresting. It needs something to add color and interest. The illustration shows an unusual garnishment of a steak platter. Slice small oranges crosswise through the rind, and lay slices on the hot platter. On top of each, put a marshmallow, with a small cavity made in the top with the point of scissors and in this cavity place a spoonful of grape jelly, bright red currant jelly, green mint jelly or golden orange marmalade.

The cost might put one of these orange slices on each person's dinner plate when he carries the steak. Have you ever tasted this delicious dish, a combination of red cabbage and jelly? Not many Americans have. But those housewives who have tried it don't wonder that it is a Danish favorite.

And yet it is only one of the many dishes made with grape jelly that comes to mind as grapes take the spotlight once more. For the markets are full of overflowing clusters of plump and luscious grapes, ripe and ready to be made into America's favorite jelly. Grape jam has its enthusiasts, too, especially among the men. It is delicious with cold tongue and makes a grand flavoring for tapioca pudding. Here are some recipes you'll like:

Danish Red Cabbage. Two and one-half quarts shredded red cabbage, 2 tablespoons sliced onions, 2 cups thinly sliced apples, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup grape jelly.

Grape Jelly Roll. (4 Eggs.) Three-fourths cup sifted cake flour, 3/4 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 4 eggs, 1 cup sifted sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup grape jelly. Sift flour once and measure. Combine baking powder, salt and eggs in bowl. Place over smaller bowl of hot water and beat with rotary egg beater, adding sugar gradually, until mixture becomes thick and light-colored. Remove bowl from hot water. Fold in flour and vanilla. Turn into 15x10-inch pan which has been greased, lined with paper to within 1/2 inch of edges and again greased. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 13 minutes. Quickly cut off crisp edges of cake. Turn out on cloth covered with powdered sugar; remove paper. Spread with jelly and roll. Wrap in cloth and cool on rack. Serves 12.

Grape Jam. Four and one-half cups (2 1/4 pounds) prepared fruit, 7 cups (3 pounds) sugar, 1/2 bottle fruit pectin. To prepare fruit, slip skins from about 2 pounds fully ripe grapes. Rinse pulp, covered, 5 minutes. Remove seeds by sieving. Chop or grind skins and add to pulp. (If wild grapes, Malaga or other tight-skinned grapes are used, stem, crush and simmer with 1/2 cup water 30 minutes. Sieve and measure. Use 4 cups prepared fruit and add juice of 2 medium lemons.) Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottle fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and maintain for 2 minutes. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each.)

Last Picnic of the Year. Labor Day has come to remind us that summer will soon be over. Soon the children will be off to school. All the gay, summer activities will give way to winter work and winter fun. But not before we have one final summer picnic.

Food will be packed easily and quickly, a made-up salad put into a tightly covered jar, plenty of sandwiches, liberally spread with real mayonnaise to keep them from drying out, wrapped carefully in waxed paper. Hard-boiled eggs added and, last but not least, coffee.

If you make your menu up the day before, the whole preparation will be easier. Here are a few suggestions that may be useful in preparing your Labor Day picnic.

Dried Beef and Cheese Sandwiches. Three-fourths cup chopped dried beef, 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1/4 cup chopped celery, mayonnaise.

Corned Beef and Celery Sandwiches. (A hearty sandwich.) One pound cooked corned beef, finely chopped, 1 cup celery, finely cut, 1 small onion, finely chopped, 1/2 tablespoon horseradish mustard, 3/4 cup mayonnaise.

Bacon and Pickle Sandwiches. (A hearty sandwich.) One-fourth cup mayonnaise, 2 dill pickles, finely chopped, 6 slices bacon, broiled crisp, and finely chopped.

To mayonnaise add other ingredients and blend thoroughly. Spread between slices of white or whole wheat bread spread with butter or vegetable margarine. Makes enough filling for 8 sandwiches.

Treasury Official Visits City Today. United States internal revenue problems in Georgia will be discussed this afternoon by Hubbard E. Gaston, special assistant to Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, and W. K. Page, collector of internal revenue in Georgia.

Mr. Gaston is due to arrive in Atlanta at 11 o'clock this morning and will leave tonight. He will be guest of honor at a luncheon at the Capital City Club to which Mr. Page has invited a number of treasury officials and prominent citizens. Mr. Gaston and Mr. Page will confer during the afternoon.

Court Calendar. COURT OF APPEALS OF GEORGIA. Judgments Affirmed. Smith vs. Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, from Richmond superior court—Judge Franklin, Paul T. Chance, Nathan J. Jones, for plaintiff; Rodney B. Cohen, for defendant.

Phillips vs. State, from Fulton superior court—Judge Thompson, C. G. Battle, for plaintiff; John A. McKinnon, solicitor, John A. Boykin, collector-general, for defendant.

Judgments Reversed. Scarborough vs. State, from Wrightsville city court—Judge F. W. Watson, for plaintiff; in error.

Collins vs. Baker et al., from Fulton superior court—Judge Humphries, Rodney Hodge Barnes, for plaintiff; J. K. Jordan, for defendant.

500-YEAR-OLD MUMMY REMOVED FROM CASE

Body of Kentucky's 'Prehistoric Miner' Preserved by Cavern's Cold.

MAMMOTH CAVE, Ky., Aug. 29. (AP)—Newly freed from seven tons of boulders by National Park Service employees, Kentucky's "prehistoric miner" continued to hide many of the secrets of his ancient race from modern science tonight.

The fragile mummy was left for the time where it was plied in an estimated 500 years ago and preserved in the cool depths of Mammoth cave. The mummy was sprayed with airplane "dope" today to preserve it for removal.

It may be that beneath the body, still lying on its face, knees to chin, is a pouch, ornaments or tools that will explain some of the mysteries of his existence, some time before Columbus discovered America.

Weeks of work by federal engineers culminated in lifting of the big rock—the Indian's tombstone—before several score spectators today.

"That sho' is a weight off his chest," breathed one of the negro CCC boys who had a part in the task as the boulder swung free.

The archaeologist praised the engineers' work in hoisting the boulder without so much as disturbing the dust on the mummy.

Poultry Store Director

NEW STORE OPENS

Atlanta Housewives Inspect Warren Poultry Shop.

Atlanta housewives yesterday inspected the new Warren Poultry and Produce store, heralded as one of the finest in the south, which opened to the public at 1006 Peachtree street.

A complete line of daily received fresh vegetables will be offered in addition to poultry under the supervision of Mrs. R. L. Warren, who is widely known to north side shoppers.

The site of the new store is that of the old one destroyed by fire several weeks ago. It is modernly equipped and furnished with every convenience for the proper display and protection of poultry and produce. A sprinkler system for vegetables, perfect ventilation and electric refrigeration throughout are features.

Every effort was made in construction to obtain new and pleasantly finished effects within and without the store, marking it as apart from the usual type of poultry and produce market.

NEGRO HELD IN FILING OF FAKE DAMAGE CASE

Charged with filing a fake damage claim against the Georgia Power Company, a negro was held in Fulton tower yesterday in default of $1,000 bond.

The negro was arrested by Hugh Perryman, of the solicitor-general's staff, who has worked in the majority of fake damage claim cases prosecuted by Solicitor John A. Boykin. Perryman said Anderson swore he was hurt when a window in a street car fell on his arm. He was charged with false swearing and with attempting to cheat and swindle the Georgia Power Company.

MRS. R. L. WARREN.

we had expected," he commented. "He looked much better from outside, before we got the rock off. The crushed condition of the body may entail considerable delay in our work."

The archaeologist praised the engineers' work in hoisting the boulder without so much as disturbing the dust on the mummy.

NEW ALL-WAVE AERIAL

IS PRAISED BY BROWN

Philco Radio Distributor
Points Out Important
Step in Reception.

Reduction to a minimum of atmospheric or man-made static and local electrical interference is the outstanding achievement of the new Philco all-wave aerial, J. C. Brown, president of Brown Distributing Company, Philco radio distributor in this section, said yesterday.

Mr. Brown characterized the new development as the latest important step toward perfect foreign and short-wave reception.

Long research in the Philco engineering department and laboratories was expended in producing a single aerial that would get maximum power on each of the five principal short-wave and broadcast bands. Previously, Mr. Brown pointed out, an aerial of different length was needed for each of the five.

"Even with the most powerful set in the world, full benefit of world broadcasting cannot be enjoyed unless an aerial system is employed that is specially designed to bring in faint signals clearly," he explains.

"To have a powerful set without a highly sensitive aerial is like running a fine car on low standard gasoline. In neither case can you realize full power. So that owners of Philco radio sets might get everything these sets are capable of giving, Philco designed this new all-wave aerial. A new Philco installed with a new Philco all-wave aerial is, I believe, the greatest distance getting combination in the world."

The new 1936 Philco receiving set is equipped with an aerial selector which, when used with the new all-wave aerial, automatically switch in the exact electrical value needed to maintain maximum power on each wave band.

Other features are the precision radio dial, two-speed tuning, triple selector system, noise excluding signal amplifier and the new acoustic clarifier. Philco also has arranged with Western Union to permit Philco owners to obtain the services of a trained expert by simply asking the Western Union to send an "R. M. S." service man.

PWA GRANTS ASKED BY COLLEGE GROUP

Applications for New Projects Totaling $1,000,000 Filed in Atlanta.

Twenty proposed new projects totaling more than $1,000,000 in funds applied for were filed yesterday in Georgia PWA headquarters as the September 5 deadline drew nearer.

The biggest block of projects in the pile submitted today came from the Georgia University System seeking outright grants totaling approximately $250,000 to improve various colleges of the system.

A complete list of today's applications follows:

Cordele, water mains, $27,500 loan and grant; Gray, waterworks, $27,000; grant; Ellijay, school building, $45,454 grant; Brunswick, school additions, $272,725 grant; Claxtonville, school building, $30,000; loan and grant; Thunderbolt, waterworks, $40,500; grant; Bainbridge, county jail, $60,000 (grant) and power plant, $270,000; grant; Screven, waterworks, $21,000; loan and grant; Wilkes, $35,000; Statesboro dormitory, $45,000; Millersville, dormitory, $18,000; Forsyth (agricultural) dormitory, $25,000; Douglas, auditorium, $25,000; Dahlonega, dormitory, $35,000; Atlanta (Tech), auditorium, $85,000; Americus dormitory, $25,000; Carrollton, dormitory, $25,000; Cochran, remodel dormitory, $25,000; and Tifton, dormitory, $35,000.

ROAD ADVOCATE'S BODY TAKEN TO SAVANNAH

Funeral services for Harvey Granger Sr., noted Georgia advocate of good roads, who died suddenly Wednesday at a hotel here as he was preparing to leave the city, will be held in Savannah. The body was taken yesterday to that city for services and burial.

A native of Jacksonville, he had been engaged in lumber export for 40 years and since 1909 had developed real estate and highway projects in the vicinity of Savannah. He was the originator of the coastal highway zone and the million-dollar road from Savannah to Tybee. He served as chairman of the good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce since its organization and was a Chatham county commissioner for several years.

Surviving are his wife, who was with him at the time he was stricken; a son, Harvey Granger Jr., and two daughters, Miss Mary Granger and Miss Eugenia Granger.

FINAL RITES ARE HELD FOR DECATUR BANKER

Final rites were held yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church of Decatur for S. H. Allen, retired banker and industrialist, who died Wednesday at a private hospital in Houghton, Ga.

An honor graduate of Mercer University and a teacher at the age of 16, Mr. Allen had been a director in several Atlanta banks before his retirement. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner. After his retirement he had taken considerable interest in citrus groves and had resided for several winters at Plymouth, Florida.

Dr. Charles T. Brown, of Gainesville, and Dr. A. J. Moncrief officiated at the services and burial was in Decatur cemetery with the deacons of the First Baptist church serving as an honorary escort and pallbearers including Dr. J. R. McCain, W. G. Bryant, Knox Thomas, Edgar Morehead, G. H. Blount, Dr. Emory Lipscomb, T. J. Pickle and P. O. Watkins.

CAMP COURSE OPENED BY SALVATION ARMY

One hundred selected young women arrived at Camp Highland yesterday for a special three day's training course for leaders, which will be directed by Adjutant Evelyn Payne, life-saving organizer for the Atlanta district of the Salvation Army. It was announced yesterday.

The school is held annually to instruct young women who have shown an aptitude for leadership in the Salvation Army. Assisting the adjutant in directing the camp are Captain Douglas Eldridge, of the Fulton village district; Mrs. Marshall, captain of the Belwood district; Captains Woods, Davis, Baily and Lieutenant Ward, of the downtown district; and Captain Richard Bergren, of the training college staff.

Brigadier Ernest Holt, principal of the training college and city commander, is in charge of the program. The camp will close Sunday night with a special meeting which will be led by Commissioner Ernest I. Pugmire, southern territorial leader of the army.

CASH AND JEWELRY TAKEN BY THIEVES

Six Residences Looted by Burglars of Goods Worth $1,000.

Six burglaries yesterday morning netted sneak thieves cash and jewelry valued at more than $1,000. The heaviest loss was suffered by Mrs. Bessie Berger, of 195 North avenue, N. E., who reported to police that a burglar had obtained $30 in cash and a diamond brooch valued at $800 in a pocketbook stolen from her residence between 8 and 10 o'clock in the morning. The brooch contained three large diamonds surrounded by 40 smaller ones.

A thief who needed a change of underwear and a tie entered the room of Bill Hardee, of the Pickwick apartments on Fairlie street. He left with the clean underwear, leaving his dirty linen and his tie, as well as $40 in cash.

Mrs. Nell Zurn, of 908 St. Charles avenue, reported loss of clothing, field glasses and other articles, valued at $150, from a locker in the basement of her home.

Mrs. C. S. McElreath, of 360 Ashby street, S. W., lost $55 in cash to a sneak thief who entered her home and took the money from a hiding place in a cedar chest.

SPECIAL TREATS FOR THAT SUNDAY SUPPER

by THE FLAVOR TWINS

Surprise and delight those guests with this tasty sandwich. Use cucumber or potato cheese mixed to taste with Durkee's Dressing for the spread, add a filling of watercress or shredded lettuce. It's different! It's lively! It has Tang.

And here's a treat for the men-folk. That end of the ham bone, too dry for other use, appears at its best when finely ground and mixed with Durkee's Dressing. Spread generously on the dressing gives it the right amount of zest.

Always ask for Durkee's Famous Dressing. A 75-year-old secret formula—which has never been successfully copied—gives us those flavor twins—Tang and Zest.

HEARST BOOMS SMITH FOR PRESIDENTIAL CHAIR

1936 campaign. He cited the social security law as an example of important legislation which he contended had made many friends for the administration.

He will get back east in time to give a political report to the president before the latter leaves next month for his speaking swing across the country.

Regardless of whether the next campaign brings a divided democratic party into the field, party leaders today saw in the Hearst statement and repercussions from it the certainty of a fight in convention next year with one wing endeavoring to turn it into more conservative paths and another shouting a battle cry of Roosevelt liberalism.

Considerable significance became attached to the half-hour Glass spent with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday, particularly after authoritative reports reported the President expressed the hope the Virginian would be renominated and re-elected next year. One informed source said Mr. Roosevelt had assured Glass that no friend of his would run against him.

On the opposite side, however, Senator Long, democrat, Louisiana, has promised to fight the renomination of President Roosevelt, but he has argued more for himself as a candidate than for any other democrat. He has said he would support Senator Borah, of Idaho, if the latter were given the republican nomination.

Long in New York did not comment today on the Hearst statement. Instead, he issued a statement of his own saying the President in deferring old age pension payments was "trying to keep the people from finding out what a fake this so-called social security relief is."

He said his filibuster which killed the appropriation for pensions was to help the wheat and cotton farmer.

TALMADGE SILENT ON HEARST SUGGESTION.

Governor Talmadge, of Georgia, withheld comment Thursday on a statement by William Randolph Hearst that he or some other "notable southern democrat" should be running mate to Alfred E. Smith in the next presidential campaign.

"I have no comment to make," Talmadge said.

Hearst suggested Smith, former governor of New York, as presidential nominee "on the genuine Jeffersonian democratic ticket, and perhaps Talmadge as a running mate."

Defining Jeffersonian democracy as the backbone of the democratic party, Talmadge has said these principles would be fought over in 1936.

part of 1934, but total awards have been 21.8 per cent less.

Cotton Consumption.

Cotton consumption in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee was 3.2 per cent larger than in June, but the daily average was slightly smaller, and July consumption was 15.3 per cent greater than a year ago. For the year ending with July, however, consumption in these states was 7.7 per cent smaller than in the year before.

Wholesale trade in the district increased from June to July by 2.9 per cent and was 7 per cent above the level for July last year. For the seven months of the year, total sales by reporting firms have been 2.1 per cent greater than that part of 1934. The July figure is higher than for that month of the past two years and compares with the figure for July, 1931.

Community Improvement Group Maps Program

The Georgia Community Improvement Association last night formulated plans for launching a widespread program for beautification of individual cities and towns at the Wincoff hotel. Among the important figures present were: seated, left to right, W. A. Sirmion, assistant director of FHA in Georgia, the principal speaker; and Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens, chairman of the organization committee; standing, left to right: Charles N. Walker, temporary chairman of the improvement association; Mrs. T. H. McHatton, of Athens, a committee member, and Harvie Jordan, chairman of the executive committee. Staff photo by Turner Hiers.

Georgia Improvement Association Takes Steps for Beautifying State

First concrete steps towards the widespread beautification and improvement of Georgia towns and cities were taken last night when the Georgia Community Improvement Association met in the Wincoff hotel, elected committees, announced plans for a convention to be held soon and heard pledges from many civic leaders throughout the state to carry out plans of Charles N. Walker, acting chairman, who presided.

A. Sirmion, assistant director for Georgia of the Federal Housing Administration and principal speaker, explained how the improvement association might co-operate with the housing administration to its advantage. Mayors of several Georgia towns and leaders of Atlanta and state civic clubs also spoke. Eric Cooke, director of the National Emergency Council for Georgia, who was scheduled to speak, could not attend because of other duties, it was announced.

State of Beauty.

"We shall see Georgia a state of beauty, happy homes and congenial companionship, if the plan of the association goes through," said Mr. Sirmion. "Work of voluntary committees in 128 counties in taking information to citizens of the national housing act already has shown what can be done by co-operation between business, political and civic groups."

Mr. Sirmion said it might yet be possible for communities that are co-operating with the improvement association to get help from federal agencies. He pointed out that civic clubs in various towns should work together rather than separately and should use the association as a mother organization.

Co-operation Pledged.

All persons present responded by short speeches and pledged the cooperation of their organizations with the plan of the association. Zach Arnold, mayor of Fort Gaines, offered the support of a weekly bulletin which is published by the Municipal Association of Georgia, of which he is secretary.

Mr. Walker gave circulars to those present suggesting that membership in the association be through county or city associations affiliated with the state body. He also suggested that the association and each local unit have such committees as might be necessary for efficient work, and the present advisory committee of the state better housing committee be the nucleus of the permanent community improvement association.

Committees Named.

Chairman of tentative committees elected last night are Harvie Jordan, of Atlanta, executive committee; Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens, organization committee; Judge Shepherd Bryan, of Atlanta, constitution and by-laws committee; Mrs. Charles J. Haden, of Atlanta, convention committee; and Milwe Owens, of Augusta, publicity committee.

Members and chairmen of committees had not all accepted last night. Others elected to the convention committee are Mrs. R. L. Cooney, Mrs. Charles M. Mashburn, Robert Martin and Mrs. W. P. Dunn, all of Atlanta. Quimby Melton, of Griffin, was elected vice chairman of the organization committee. Some 50 prominent civic leaders of the state were named on the various committees.

The improvement association was organized at a meeting here on August 14. Suggestions for the organization, as outlined by Mr. Walker, have been printed and are addressed to members of the advisory committee, of the state better housing committee, to all committee chairmen and to mayors throughout the state.

LEGION BUGLERS ISSUE CHALLENGE

Atlanta Corps Offers To Meet LaGrange in Private Contest.

It looks as if the Atlanta Legionnaires are going to war again—or the drum and bugle corps, at least.

When the LaGrange drum and bugle corps protested the $500 award to the Atlanta body at the Macon contests last week, they started something. The LaGrange boys didn't like it because the Atlanta delegation would not let them use their own bugles. This, according to William "Baby" Davis, America's youngest World War veteran and drum major of the Atlanta corps, is strictly against national competition rules. Then LaGrange declared that Atlanta was disqualified on certain technicalities.

Now "Baby" Davis challenges the LaGrange bunch to a private encounter. "We'll compete with them with or without values, in their own town or in any town in Georgia," he said last night. "We will let them pick their own judges and make their own rules and then beat them hands down. And if they want to charge for the exhibition, we will play them winner take all."

THOUSANDS HOMELESS IN JAPANESE TYPHOON

TOKYO, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Forty-two persons are dead or missing today, scores injured and tens of thousands of homes inundated from a typhoon from the South seas that lashed Japan's largest cities.

The Kobe district, where 20 were killed and 44 injured, suffered the worst damage. Wakayama reported that six persons were buried in a landslide. In Osaka 16 coolies who were in their hard hats when the typhoon struck are missing.

In Kobe, 46 houses were demolished, 15,000 more flooded, and roads, bridges and harbor works destroyed. Shipping was tied up and harbor schedules were disrupted.

High winds accompanied by rain struck Tokyo today and flooded 1,000 houses in the low-lying regions along Tokyo bay. No casualties were reported here.

MACON MAN ELECTED HEAD OF AUGUSTA BANK

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Directors of the National Exchange bank here today announced the election of E. P. Peabody, of Macon, as president of the bank, succeeding Edgar A. Stubbs.

Peabody, a native of Waycross, has lived in Macon 15 years, being connected with the First National Bank & Trust Company there.

Stubbs resigned to become vice president and treasurer of the Federal Land bank at Columbia, S. C., effective September 9.

Lindberghs Fly West.

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh made a surprise 10-minute visit here today, stopping off at the municipal airport to refuel their plane. The colonel had nothing to say beyond remarking about "your excellent airport." Both left the plane only to stretch. They flew in a westerly direction from Duluth, their destination unknown.

be, and I want a fair chance to prove what I believe."

Informed to these announcements, Captain John J. Lamb, chief of the detective division of the New Jersey state police, said today a few fingerprints, presumably those of the Lindbergh baby, were available for comparison.

Asked why Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were not taken to see the child on Long Island, thus identifying it without recourse to fingerprints, Fisher replied:

"We have offered to do that, and they have refused."

The attorneys issued the following statement:

Attorneys' Statement.

"Through our investigators we succeeded in locating a child now in Long Island, who, because of physical resemblances, coupled with a set of circumstances surrounding the history of the child, indicated to us that there was more than a possibility it might be the missing Lindbergh child."

"We succeeded in securing fingerprints of this child and then communicated with Colonel Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, asking the colonel to furnish us with a complete set of the Lindbergh baby's fingerprints."

"He replied that there was no complete set of the Lindbergh baby's prints in existence, but only a few latent prints of a child were found in the nursery room, that there was no definite information as to whose prints these latent prints might be."

"This information was very surprising as we knew that Dr. Hudson, fingerprint expert called in by Schwarzkopf to aid him at the time of the kidnapping, had found dozens of prints of the child in the Lindbergh nursery, and that the prints were very clear and readable."

"We felt that we were justified in demanding that New Jersey authorities produce the original prints of this baby and conceded that prints thus produced to be the genuine prints of the Lindbergh child before any comparison with the prints we had in our possession was made."

"The investigation leading to the facts in relation to this child covered a long period of time and the further our investigation went the more apparent it became that there was a strong likelihood this baby might be the lost baby."

"Any information published anywhere indicating that information leading to the discovery of this baby comes as a result of an interview with a prisoner in San Quentin or any other prison is without foundation or proof."

"Neither I nor any of my investigators has interviewed any prisoners anywhere in connection with the youngster. We sincerely trust that the genuine prints of the Lindbergh baby will be made available to us and we feel in view of all facts and circumstances in connection with the child we have located warrants our request to the authorities to produce the prints of the Lindbergh baby."

"In view, however, of the evasive nature of the reply of Colonel Schwarzkopf it appears we may have some difficulty in procuring the original prints."

LAMB ASSERTS PRINTS AVAILABLE TO ATTORNEYS

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Captain John J. Lamb, chief of the detective division of the New Jersey state police, said today a few fingerprints, presumably those of the Lindbergh baby, were available for comparison with any child's fingerprints attorneys for Bruno Richard Hauptmann might produce.

Lamb said Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police superintendent, had so notified C. Lloyd Fisher, one of Hauptmann's attorneys, within the past week.

Fisher, seeking new evidence in California, said in Hollywood the defense would challenge the identification of the body found within a few miles of the Lindbergh home as that of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. He and Vincent A. Marco said today their investigators have located a child in Long Island under circumstances indicating "there was more than a possibility it might be the missing Lindbergh child."

"There were a few fingerprints found on the Lindbergh property," Lamb said, "but whether they are those of the Lindbergh baby no one knows. The superintendent (Schwarzkopf) has offered to compare them in the presence of Fisher or any one he desires."

Lamb observed that the baby had been identified as the Lindbergh baby by Colonel Lindbergh, Betty Gow, the nurse, and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh. The court, he said, had not questioned it.

Attorney-General David T. Wilentz, who prosecuted Hauptmann, smiled when informed of the defense plan to seek a new trial on the basis of new evidence, and commented:

"I have nothing to say except the Pacific must be a wonderful ocean."

ELECTRICITY OF BRAIN MAKES DREAM GRAPHS

waves are traced by a seismograph. In deepest sleep the pencil made random markings, small up and down waves of entirely irregular patterns. Speaking to a person asleep, without awakening him, caused a sudden change to "train" of waves. These packets of up and down waves following one another closely like vibrations over a wire.

Sometimes the disturbed sleeper's brain gave off "spindles" of waves, so named because they resembled spindles in shape. They were bundles of electrical waves, separated by long spaces when the recording pencil was almost still.

The saw-tooth waves were irregular jagged peaks. They appeared only in young children just after they had fallen asleep.

The waves from the front of the brain were sometimes different than those from the back and again the same.

But one surprise was reported in a difference between front and rear sections of the brain. A noise caused more disturbance of the electrical stuff in the forward part of the brain than in the rear. This was not expected because the known areas of the brain which recognize sounds are nearer the back of the head.

It was concluded that the electrical waves following a noise showed a kind of consciousness in the forward part of the brain, the area which by its great development is one of the distinguishing differences between men and animals.

The timing of sleeping dogs and rats produced electric waves quite different from anything seen in human beings. Deep anesthesia stopped the electric pulsations completely in a rat's brain.

Donors Speed Gifts of Securities In Effort To Dodge Higher Taxes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Speeding ahead of new and higher taxes, corporate officials and large stockholders were shown by securities commission reports today to have given away more than $5,000,000 in stock in July.

An estimated saving of $190,000—the extra payment under the new tax bill—was effected.

Largest gifts were $1,470,000 by K. J. Harter, of Kansas City, Mo., and $1,380,000 by Andrew Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, consisting of 46,000 shares of 8 per cent cumulative participating preferred in the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

Total gift taxes on the $5,000,000 in July would be about $520,000 under the present law against $700,000 under the new.

Aside from a $27,000,000 gift in June by John D. Rockefeller Jr., July gifts were at a higher rate and both months greatly exceeded previous months on the commission's records.

EARHART IN AIR RACE WHICH STARTS TODAY

Nation's Foremost Airmen
Will Seek To Shatter
Transcontinental Mark.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Toussie-haired Amelia Earhart pitted herself and her comparatively slow plane against 300-mile-an-hour speed kings today by entering the transcontinental air derby starting from here tomorrow.

She entered the 2,200-mile Los Angeles-to-Cleveland race at the last minute to become the second woman contender in this year's speed classic. Jacqueline Cochran, New York pilot, is the other feminine contestant.

In quest of the Bendix trophy and perhaps some of the $12,500 prize money, Miss Earhart is banking on the flaming high-winged monoplane in which she flew alone from Hawaii to California.

Miss Earhart's plane, similar to the late Wiley Post's veteran "Winnie Mae," has a top speed of only 195 miles an hour, compared to the 300-mile-an-hour and better from planes of such noted pilots as Colonel Rooster Turner, holder of the transcontinental record of 19 hours, 2 minutes; Royal Leonard, Earl Orman and others.

Colonel Turner was the pre-race favorite.

Although Cleveland is the immediate destination, there is a $2,500 additional prize for any flyer beating Turner's cross-country record to New York.

Miss Cochran hopes to fly to New York via Cleveland, nonstop. Miss Earhart will be accompanied by Paul Mantz, her technical advisor. Miss Cochran will be alone in her single-seater.

Orman's getaway at 1:30 a. m. (Pacific standard time, 4:30 a. m. Atlanta time) tomorrow will start the Derby.

Royal Leonard will follow at 2 a. m.; Colonel Turner at 3 a. m.; Miss Cochran at 3:15 p. m.; Cecil Allen at 3:45 a. m.; Russell Thaw at 4 a. m.; Benjamin Howard at 4:10 a. m.; and Roy Hunt at 4:15 a. m. Seward Pulitzer, of New York, and Miss Earhart were to have their take-off times set later.

Georgia's Champion Watermelon Producer

D. C. Johnson, of Gainesville, left, with the watermelon which he brought to the Washington street market Thursday, causing Miss Gladys Yarbrough, of the Bureau of Markets, Center, and G. F. Hunnicutt, supervisor of the Bureau of Markets, to name him "Georgia's Champion Watermelon Grower." There are more than 100 melons weighing from 75 to 125 pounds apiece. Staff photo by George Cornett.

Champion Grower of Watermelons Works 45 Years To Better Product

Georgia's champion watermelon grower is D. C. Johnson, who farms near Gainesville, according to G. F. Hunnicutt, field supervisor for the state's bureau of markets. About 200 in a state where melons grow naturally large and luscious, Mr. Johnson has worked for 45 years to improve the size and taste of the watermelon. And Thursday he brought over 100 of them to the Washington street market, weighing from 75 to 125 pounds apiece, which he sells for from $2.50 to $5 each. Never before has such a display of melons been brought to Atlanta, according to Mr. Hunnicutt.

Mr. Johnson grew the melons, known as the Kansas Wonder, on a plot of sandy upland loam. He raised 300 of them on one acre, using only 300 pounds of fertilizer. About 200 pounds of 8-2-2 fertilizer and 100 pounds of cotton seed mash were distributed by a drill, the land listed and the melon seeds planted on the list in hills, according to Mr. Hunnicutt. Mr. Johnson expects to net $300 from the acre.

The field supervisor of the state's market bureau says that 15 years ago he was in Gainesville and at that time saw 10 of Mr. Johnson's melons. The total weight was 700 pounds. It is doubtful if any Kansas farmer has grown the Kansas Wonder melon as large as the Gainesville farmer, he said.

Georgia farmers must realize the importance of selecting one staple food product and winning the reputation of growing it better than any other farmer in his section, Mr. Hunnicutt said. Success as a farmer and a good living often result from raising a special product, he said.

STRIKESATURDAYVOTED ON WABASH RAILWAY

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29.—(AP)—An "overwhelming" strike vote by union operating employees of the Wabash Railway Company, today led to an order for approximately 4,500 workers to walk out at 6:30 a. m. Saturday.

The strike order also applies to employees of the Ann Harbor Railway, a subsidiary. Workers charge the road cut the pay without first negotiating with employees, and failed to accept completely findings of the National Railroad Adjustment Board relative to the disagreement.

REDS REVEAL ORDERS TO SEIZE ALL NATIONS

Resolutions Approved by Comintern Revealed as Note Aftermath.

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—(UP)—World-wide co-operation of communists and other "true left elements" to establish revolutionary governments in all countries was ordered by the comintern at its recent session, it was revealed today when resolutions of the third international, which drew a sharp protest from the United States were published.

Fascism and capitalism must be crushed as the worst enemies of communism, the resolutions said. This will be accomplished by substitution of offensive for defensive tactics. While the proletariat can overthrow fascism, it is dangerous to think fascism will fall automatically, and "therefore a struggle is necessary."

Seize Governments.
Basic aims of communism as outlined in the resolutions include:

1. Control of all banks and industry.
2. Weakening of the economic and political power of the middle classes.
3. Assumption of leadership by workers.
4. Dismissal of police and substitution of a workers' militia.
5. Eventual seizure of all governments.

The comintern ordered establishment of a united front by the working class of every country in preparation for future "great struggles in the second phase of the proletarian revolutionary."

"Only the combining of the proletariat into a mass political army will assure victory in the struggle against fascism and capitalism for creation of soviet governments," the resolutions said.

Communists were empowered to support liberal, non-communist governments if they oppose capitalism and fascism and do not hamper the communist party.

Paralyze Middle Class.
Conditions necessary for creation of a government by the united front of the proletariat were defined as follows: When the middle class state apparatus is so paralyzed it can no longer interfere with the united front, when the masses of workers vigorously react against fascism even though they are not yet ready to fight for a soviet government, and when the great part of the organizations of social democracy struggle against fascism and other reactionaries and are ready to co-operate with communists.

Condemning German fascism as the "first of a counter-revolutionary movement," the resolutions set forth specific means for combating enemies of communism.

Orders Issued.
1. Establishment of a united front against fascism and the awakening of the masses through local slogans.

2. Inform the masses how to defend themselves against fascists and capitalists, complicate preparation of imperialist wars, weaken middle classes and strengthen the proletariat.

3. Use offensive tactics against capitalism, aiming toward an ultimate mass political strike.

4. Oppose state sale of peasants' property, struggle for state aid for impoverished peasants and oppose state salary cuts and cultural reaction.

AAA AID ATTACKS 5-4 BAR DECISION

Cully Cobb Declares Two-Third Majority Should Be the Rule.

MARIANNA, Ark., Aug. 29.—(AP)—From one of the officials responsible for the operation of the government's agricultural program, Arkansas cotton farmers heard today a close decision of the United States supreme court may arouse question as to whether it removes the constitutionality of any particular measure.

"There are those who are not at all friendly to the present program," said Cully A. Cobb, chief of the cotton division of the AAA, "and yet who wonder if all question as to the constitutionality of any particular measure is removed in a 5-to-4 vote of the supreme court."

The official said some persons asked "if it would not be much safer if a two-thirds majority were required as the basis for decision."

"Certainly decision in very important matters should be overwhelmingly one way or the other," he declared.

FARMERS FAVOR PLAN TO TEST TARIFF LAWS

Cotton Growers To Hit Back at Attacks Made on Processing Taxes.

PERRY, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—In endorsing the AAA production control program, a group of cotton farmers from Houston and adjoining counties has approved a plan to seek a federal court test of constitutionality of the tariff laws protecting industrial commodities.

The farmers took the action yesterday after hearing Cliff Day, a Texas cotton planter, charge that if the AAA processing tax is illegal then the tariff on industrial goods is equally so.

Day, with Andrew Bourland, another Texas, is attending a series of meetings in Georgia and other cotton-growing states in support of the AAA.

Fear was expressed at the meeting yesterday that unless the farmers band together for production control, wheat farmers and the cattle country may turn to cotton growing because of adverse weather conditions.

The cotton farmers want to have their own attorney investigate the legality of the processing tax and likewise institute suits against the tariff. If one is illegal the other is too and both should be placed on the same basis, it was held.

A fund of more than $100,000 has been raised, it was announced, to carry on the effort. It is understood that Georgia will participate in the effort.

HIGHWAY SESSION CALLED AT GRIFFIN

Completion of Paving on Route 16 To Be Urged Monday.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—C. L. Redmond, of Jackson, elected president of Highway Route Sixteen Association when it was organized here five years ago, has called a meeting to be held in Griffin Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the ordinary office in the courthouse.

Route 16 runs from the Alabama line to the South Carolina line and connects Carrollton, Newnan, Senoia, Griffin, Jackson, Monticello, Eatonton and on to Augusta. Cities along the route are invited to send delegations. Because this highway is an important state road and because it connects many important and thriving communities, it is felt that concerted action at this time will result in an order to pave the road from state line to state line, Redmond states. Already short stretches are paved and bridges are already being built across rivers that heretofore have been considered a barrier on the highway.

Mr. Redmond in issuing the call for the meeting stresses the importance of county commissioners attending.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

GOV. TALMADGE CALLS FOR 'FORGOTTEN MAN'

Executive Silent on Mention of His Name With Al Smith's by Hearst.

SENOIA, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—Governor Talmadge came into this central Georgia farming section today and labeled President Roosevelt "the forgotten man" in a brief talk to a barbeque-eating crowd.

The speech was delivered from the outside stairway of a peach packing house on the plantation of Carl C. McKnight, a Govea county cotton gin owner and planter. McKnight sponsored the barbeque for patrons of his gin and invited the Governor as guest of honor.

Talmadge delivered a terse address, told some anecdotes and in only two instances did he touch on political affairs. As he concluded and started down the stairs yells came from the audience to "tell us about the processing tax."

He laughed and shook his head: "I'm too full of barbeque."

"Then talk about Roosevelt," several shouted.

"Oh, that's the forgotten man," Talmadge responded, gesturing good-naturedly. He did not simplify this remark.

In the other case the Governor, who is out to scalp Mr. Roosevelt in the 1936 national campaign, reminded his listeners that a bureau in Washington had wronged Georgia's $19,000,000 of road funds, which Georgians paid themselves, on a hook during the long-drawn-out highway dispute.

"I see by the newspapers—that's the only indication I have received yet—that they're ready to turn our money loose," he remarked. "They even dictate how much money we were to pay highway employees. But I'm proud to say we've got a highway department that stands up for state rights."

Will Spend Fund.

"You'll take care of that, won't you Gene?" someone interrupted. The Governor replied:

"Yeh, we'll spend it."

Earlier in the day during his press conference in Atlanta Talmadge viewed with silence a suggestion from William Randolph Hearst, publisher of that national ticket of Alfred E. Smith for president, with either Talmadge, Governor Ritchie or Senator Ryd as a running mate, be sponsored in the 1936 campaign.

"I've no comment to make," the Georgian said.

"I'm a democrat, and as national democratic committeemen from Georgia it is my duty to fight for the principles of old line democracy and try to help the party on to victory next year."

If the democratic party at the next convention "goes off on a patronage craze" and renominates Roosevelt, Talmadge said the President would not carry half a dozen states.

Talmadge was driven to Senoia by Charles D. Redwine, president of the state senate, of Fayetteville, who introduced the Governor at the barbeque. Redwine has been mentioned as a candidate for governor in 1936 but he remained aloof when approached about his future political ambitions.

His introduction of the speaker lauded Talmadge as a "sound leader, an advocate of the fundamental principles of government, and principles enunciated by Jefferson that the least governed people are the best governed people."

Redwine said that due to Talmadge's leadership "the eyes of America are focused on Georgia as the leader in fiscal affairs."

Attending the barbeque also, in the Governor's party, were Wesley Cullpepper, veteran legislator from Fayette county, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hollberg, who received Talmadge at Senoia.

On the scene were Ellis G. Arnall, twice speaker pro tem, of the house and talked for lieutenant governor next year, and his colleague from Govea county, Representative Stonewall Dyer.

WORK STARTS SOON ON RIVER PROJECT

Plans Made To Begin Flood Control Plan at West Point.

WEST POINT, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—Preparations are being made for beginning a federal flood control project on the Chattahoochee river here.

Roy F. Rudolph, of Mobile, has been placed in charge of the project, with C. R. Smith, of Mobile and Tuscaloosa assisting.

Workers for the project which touches three counties, Troup and Harris in Georgia, and Chambers in Alabama, are expected to come from the relief rolls of the three counties. Applications for work on the project must be filed with the employment office in each county. Troup county citizens may apply at LaGrange, Harris county residents at Hamilton, and Chambers county workers at LaFayette, Ala.

Several hundred are to be given jobs. Rudolph is now in Mobile drawing up final plans for the project. Smith is here.

STATE DEATHS

E. S. ETHELIDGE.
JEFFERSON, Ga., Aug. 29.—E. S. Ethelidge, 50, for many years one of Jackson county's outstanding citizens, died at his home here today after an illness of two days. Funeral services will be held at the Jefferson Christian church Friday afternoon.

Burials include four daughters, Mrs. C. Y. Daniels, of Jefferson; Mrs. H. L. Richardson, of Atlanta; and Misses Nan and Lola Ethelidge, both of Atlanta.

Mr. Ethelidge had for some time been in failing health due to his advanced age.

MRS. MATILDA STEED.
DALTON, Ga., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Matilda Steed, 81, widow of James O. Steed, of Murray county, and mother of J. N. Steed, assistant solicitor of the Cherokee judicial circuit, and James Steed, prominent Dalton banker, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Harris, of Elton, Ga., following a three-day illness.

Resides her two sons and daughter above mentioned, she was survived by a third son, W. B. Steed, of Port Arthur, Texas; two brothers, Oliver Steed, of Marshall, Texas, and William Steed, of Washington, Texas.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the First Methodist church of Dalton. The pastor of the First Methodist church, Rev. J. D. McCallister, will conduct the services. Burial will be in the cemetery of the First Methodist church. Interment will be in the family cemetery at Spring Place. The Fred Brown funeral home of Chatsworth is in charge of arrangements.

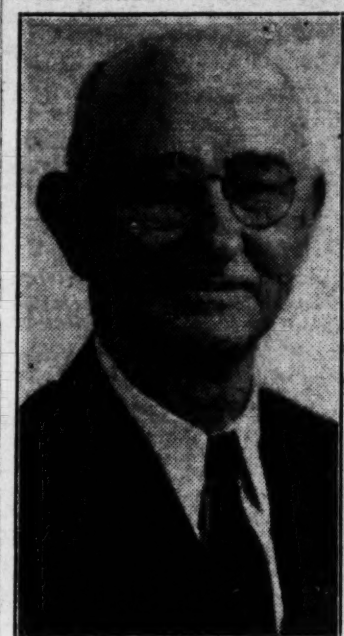

MRS. J. D. MOSTELLER.
ROME, Ga., Aug. 29.—Funeral services for Mrs. J. D. Mosteller, 71, who died yesterday at her residence on South Broad street, were held this morning from the chapel of Daniel & Son's Funeral home, with Rev. G. W. Hamilton, pastor of South Broad Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in Myrtle Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Mosteller was born and reared in South Carolina. She has been living in Rome for about 30 years. Her husband died about 15 years ago.

She is survived by one son, Ernest Mosteller.

RAWLS INFANT.
ROME, Ga., Aug. 29.—Funeral services for Gladys Fay Rawls, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rawls, who died Wednesday, were held Thursday morning from the graveside in Lakewood cemetery with Rev. R. W. Wooten officiating.

New Macon Postmaster

W. A. PATILLO.

PATILLO ASSUMES DUTIES AT MACON

New Postmaster Succeeds Anderson, Who Was Rejected.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—W. A. Patillo, recently named as acting postmaster here, assumed his new duties today.

P. T. Anderson, acting postmaster for more than two years, was "checked out" late last night, it was learned.

Mr. Patillo is officially informed of his appointment in a wire from First Assistant Postmaster Howes. The telegram read: "You have been appointed acting postmaster at Macon."

TIFTON PACKING PLANT TO BE REOPENED SOON

Armour To Spend $150,000 in Reconditioning Slaughtering House.

TIFTON, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—Armour & Co.'s packing plant here which has been closed for 15 years will reopen November 1 for killing cattle and hogs, curing and storing meats and other packing house activities. It was announced today by Murick, D. Hardy, of Chicago, general superintendent.

The plant also will be used as a distributing center for this region. Expenditure of $150,000 to put the plant in condition, and plans for employment of about 100 persons also were announced.

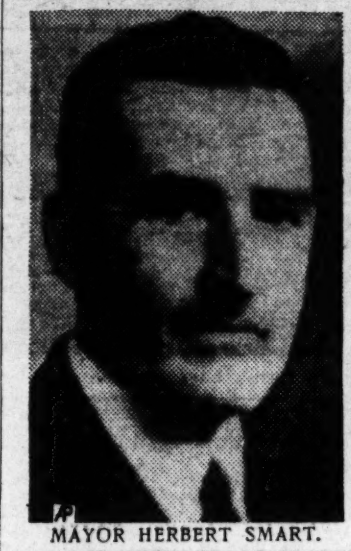

Slaughtering capacity of about 150,000 hogs and 15,000 cattle yearly is expected.

Much gratification has been expressed here that the plant is to be reopened, as it is taken to mean that not only will a number of persons be given employment, but that it will serve as a livestock market for this section of south Georgia. It is expected that the reopening of the plant will also serve as an incentive for local farmers to engage more than ever in the growing of livestock for the market.

con. Assume charge of office at close of business today (Wednesday).

Upon objection of Senator Russell, the senate recently declined to confirm Anderson's appointment and Patillo, a local businessman and brother-in-law of Sheriff Jim Hicks, of Bibb county, was named by Congressman Vinson, in whose district Macon is located.

Two Candidates Face Voters in Central City

MAYOR HERBERT SMART.

WALTER T. JOHNSON.

ENGINEERS NAMED ON POWER PROJECT

Commission To Study $17,500,000 Augusta Dam Announced.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(P)—President Roosevelt set up today a commission of three prominent engineers to determine the feasibility of constructing a $17,500,000 dam on the Savannah river above Augusta.

Selected for the job were Colonel Earl Brown, army engineer; Roger B. McWhorter, Federal Power Commission chief engineer, and Sherman M. Woodard, of the National Resources Board.

The huge dam has been proposed as a power-flood control and navigation project. Its sponsors pointed out it would be of great potential value in preventing floods at Augusta and in maintaining a uniform navigation channel.

Colonel Brown is chief engineer of the army South Atlantic division which embraces the Savannah river. He is a graduate of West Point, being appointed from Georgia, and has had long service with the army engineers.

McWhorter, a native of Alabama and graduate of Auburn, also has had important assignments with the army engineers. He has been chief engineer for the Federal Power Commission for several years.

Woodard formerly was professor of engineering at Iowa State University, and has served as consulting engineer for TVA in addition to his Resources Board work.

Hatchery Draws Crowds.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—According to local observers, the United States Fish Hatchery near here has more visitors than any one other attraction at Warm Springs, despite the major drawing cards of the "Little White House" and Georgia Hall near the springs. The hatchery produces only native breeds of fish—black bass, bream and catfish.

MACON TO NAME MAYOR AND ALDERMEN TODAY

Smart Is Opposed as City Head by Walter T. Johnson, Attorney.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—Macon's municipal campaign was brought to a close last night with a big rally of the Herbert Smart administration in the Macon auditorium. The election is tomorrow.

Speakers for Walter T. Johnson, who is opposing Mayor Smart's reelection, were heard Tuesday night in the auditorium, denouncing acts of the present administration, its attitude toward labor, transactions with the Georgia Power Company and the city taxation system.

Mayor Smart's campaign committee has pointed to a record of achievements under adverse conditions—remodeling of the city hall, fire headquarters, Price free library, Macon hospital nurses' home—and to other civic improvements as reasons for continuance in office.

Several other federal projects, including building of a city prison and an incinerator plant, construction of sewers, and street paving, have been launched during the campaign.

More than 7,000 persons are registered to vote in the primary tomorrow. A precedent of gathering all precincts under one roof has been set by the democratic executive committee for this primary, and all voting will be in the Macon auditorium. The committee took this action, its officers said, to prevent possible fraud and duplication of voting.

Members of the aldermanic board will also be named tomorrow.

LAGRANGE LEGION POST PROTESTS MUSIC PRIZE

LAGRANGE, Ga., Aug. 29.—(P)—Formal protest of the award to the Atlanta post of the drum and bugle corps contest prize at the Macon convention of the American Legion has been made to the executive committee of the Legion by the Baxter L. Schaub post here.

The protest, signed by George M. Forrester, commander of the post, and A. B. Brooks, captain of the junior drum and bugle corps of LaGrange, said the Atlanta post disqualified itself from competition by three alleged violations of the rules of the contest.

The paper said the award should have been made to the junior drum and bugle corps of LaGrange, and if not to the junior corps, to the senior corps of LaGrange.

by an Austrian commander of Ethiopian troops in Gerolubi, Major Joseph Jonker.

They are now teaching the Ethiopians how to use the machine guns, he said. Major Jonker has 4,000 European-trained infantry in his command, the most capable of whom are training large detachments of the 30,000 irregulars advanced to positions on the Ogaden front, guarding the approaches.

JAP ARMS PURCHASES DENIED BY BOTH

TOKYO, Aug. 29.—(AP)—A government spokesman today denied Japanese munitions had been shipped to Ethiopia and insisted there was no indication of plans for future shipments. Inquiries in authoritative military and industrial quarters supported the spokesman's denial.

The spokesman deprecated an Italian suggestion Japan was sympathetic to Italy's Ethiopian policy. The spokesman, he said, was "convinced to the Rome official inspired press."

At Addis Ababa, one of the highest government officials stated Ethiopia had not ordered any munitions from Japan and did not expect to order any.

SELASIE REINFORCES FRONT LINE TRENCHES

(Copyright, 1935, by the United Press.)

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 29.—(UP)—New Italian troop movements in Ethiopia's frontiers and repercussions of grave developments in Europe today caused Emperor Haile Selassie to reinforce his front line trenches and sent foreigners scurrying from the capital.

Italian forces have taken strategic positions in both Kibera and Italian Somaliland. The Ethiopian war office ordered troops and munitions to strengthen both areas after military experts announced the "new" forces now command the approaches to 7,000 square miles of territory.

Five British and American missionaries and the last two Italian missionaries remain at the Italian legation prepared to depart.

The government prepared a list of needed hospital supplies for the British records—an Egyptian patriotic organization raising funds for equipment to assist Ethiopia. The supplies will be shipped as soon as the Ethiopian Red Cross charter, which route, has been approved at Geneva.

Supplies have been ordered from American wholesale druggists. Eight British and 11 Swedish surgeons, volunteering for service with Emperor Haile Selassie's forces, will be given Ethiopian visas as soon as war is declared.

most important mission Britain has assigned to her naval forces since the World War.

In Long Line.

Hands blared aboard the larger vessels during exchanges of salutes fired from each ship as it left the harbor to join the armada at sea. The fleet bathed in sunshine, was impressive.

The main fleet moved ahead in a long line. The third and fourth squadrons were escorted by destroyers, zig-zagging through white foam as convoys to the potent flagship Admiral Sir William Wordworth Fisher.

The battleships Revenge and Valiant followed, flags of vice admirals fluttered from them.

Behind the battleships steamed the first cruiser squadron—the London, Devonshire and Shropshire. It was followed by the third cruiser squadron—the Delhi, Fespatch and Durban.

The Valiant and all ships in the first cruiser squadron were equipped with airplanes—the best machines in the British naval air forces. The first squadron of destroyers and the first squadron of submarines also left with the fleet. After maneuvers at sea they will return to base at Malta while the fleet hovers off the gateway to the route to India.

The Mediterranean's importance, emphasized by British fleet activities, was enhanced by reports Italy is strengthening her own position here.

60 Ethiopians Are Slain In Raid by French Tribe

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 29.—(UP)

Raid on Ethiopian territory by natives of French Somaliland will not cause controversy between France and Ethiopia, officials announced today.

They said Ethiopian inhabitants of the Abyss region retired yesterday to "avoid frontier incidents" when 1500 warriors from French territory killed 60 Ethiopians after stealing their cattle and mules. The government considered the raid "merely one of an endless series of tribal forays."

FOUR YOUTHS HELD ON THEFT CHARGES

Detectives Investigate Loss

From Parking Lots.

Four youths were held by police yesterday in an investigation of automobile thefts in Atlanta, mostly from used car lots and parking places. The cars that detectives said they believed had been stolen by the group have been stripped and the removable parts sold, the remainder being abandoned.

Those held are Felix Cook, 17, of 469 Humphries street, S. W., who has confessed theft of an automobile, according to Detectives George Barrett and A. B. Morgan; George Rinehart, 17, of 300 Whitehall street, S. W., said to have been identified by a thief victim as one of a group of four seen in the stolen car; Herbert Harris, 20, of 516 Whitehall street, S. W., and Robert McCollum, 19, of Ben Hill, both of whom, detectives said, have been implicated, although not definitely identified.

Four automobiles that detectives said had been taken by the four youths, all of which have been recovered, were taken from J. C. Butler, of 1474 Beech street, S. W.; D. C. Black, of 380 Peachtree street; Pat Gillelme, of Peachtree street; and W. S. Greeloor, of 1143 Cumberland road, N. E.

Arriving from Paris, Balbo was reported to have completed a successful mission designed to assure sources of war supplies, including raw materials vital to prosecution of the east African campaign.

PROBABLE WAR BASIS FOR NEW COMIC OPERA

PARIS, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Marcel Prevost, famed French author, today completed a new comic opera based on an Italo-Ethiopian war.

It is the story of an Ethiopian girl, civilized nation could have gone to war with England in defense of an Liberalism. The fact that the invitation to Abyssinia to join the League came from Italy does not alter the situation in the least. Italy made a mistake; that is all.

The only way to escape war for the Lion of Judah is to accept the position of a native prince under the Italian empire, as he would in India under the British empire. That would extend his own power over his people very considerably; for his present power, representing the reality of his power, can be neither as effective nor as omnipotent as Italy could make it.

Fight Aids Hitler.

The motion that annexation of Abyssinia by Italy could provoke a European war immediately and directly on its own merits is childish nonsense. But there are remoter possibilities which should make Italy do as much to obtain a bloodless surrender.

If the Abyssinians put up a fight on lines laid down by Lawrence of Arabia, carefully avoiding anything like a pitched battle, they may effect a drain on Italy's resources and the patience of her people that will make it impossible for Il Duce to undertake another war on her northern frontier.

In such an event, Herr Hitler will realize the dream of his youth by smothering, completing a central German empire in Germany and Austria. The Little Entente could hardly fight him without Italy's help. The League could not object to Anschluss as a thing had it itself; it would be the salvation of ruined Vienna.

Death Means Money.

I see no other serious consideration that will put a brake on Italy. Pacificists will proclaim against the horrors of war. Diplomats will rush about between embassies and Geneva assuring us they are doing their utmost consistently with the interests of their respective nations. But the interest obtainable on capital, now a drug on the market, will double; industries will make big profits.

Ranks will flourish. The heaps of dead in Ethiopia will not inconvenience the owners of heaps of money now on deposit at one per cent, and hanging for five. I have not forgotten how the South African war improved my own financial situation.

WORK PROJECTS TAKE ALABAMA OFF RELIEF

Wyoming Also Replaces Dole; Ickes' Projects Are Rejected.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Complete abandonment of "this business of relief" in Alabama and Wyoming after next Monday was ordered today by Harry L. Hopkins.

This move toward the goal of providing 3,500,000 work relief jobs by November, coincided with storm signals for Secretary Ickes' public works program.

High cost of PWA projects per man employed, and shortage of skilled construction workers on relief rolls, today brought Hopkins' rejection of 388 projects approved by Ickes.

The PWA administrator telegraphed states and communities in the hope their application can be revised before the final meeting of the work relief allotment committee September 17.

Paving the way for Hopkins' action in cutting the first states off the dole, the allotment committee this week recommended allotment of only $75,000,000 for September direct relief.

Approved work relief projects in Alabama involve $35,170,730, and in Wyoming, $18,961,471.

The $49,000,000 PWA program rejected by Ickes would have been matched by $35,000,000 in local contributions.

Two hundred and ninety-two projects, which would have received donations of $39,043,534, were rejected on the ground that they did not put enough men to work. In addition, the scarcity of skilled construction labor on relief rolls brought rejection of 29 involving $2,297,958, and a combination of these troubles eliminated 18 to the tune of $1,374,325.

Ickes, who said all these projects had been carefully selected and were of the type he carried out under the old PWA, held out hope that some applications would be modified to meet Hopkins' objections.

MACON TO CONTEST FOR MARKET HONOR

Middle Georgia City Seeks To Be Hub of Farm Mart System.

MACON yesterday announced that it would contest Atlanta for the honor of being the hub of the new state system of farmers' markets being established under the supervision of Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder.

Commissioner Linder said he had been informed by Macon authorities that they wanted their market to be the hub of the system.

The Atlanta market site was announced by the commissioner yesterday. It will occupy the block bounded by Courtland street, Gilmer street, Decatur street and Piedmont avenue.

"Only time will tell which market will be the leader," the commissioner said. "The amount of business handled by each one will tell the story. If Atlanta disposes of more produce than any other market it will be the clearing house. If Macon takes the leadership all of the honors will go to that city."

On Lake Lucerne. The tragedy took place about 9:14 a. m. along a beautiful road skirting the lake of Lucerne. The king and queen and their children had been staying at "Villa Hallsteden," the late King Albert's Swiss residence, until the children returned last night.

It was at this villa that Astrid and Leopold learned of King Albert's death while alone on a mountain-climbing expedition near Brussels, in February, 1934.

King Leopold told briefly of what happened, piecing out his knowledge with what the chauffeur said. Members of the household in a second car far behind saw nothing.

Doctor Summoned. A farmer on the other side of the road heard the crash. He ran and telephoned for Dr. Steingger, then called gendarmes. The doctor was first to arrive, with two gendarmes, Hugo Ruckstuhl and Jean Rogg.

"The first person I noticed," said Ruckstuhl, "was a man standing with torn clothes near a tree by the roadside. I recognized immediately from photographs that he was the king of the Belgians. I addressed him, but he said nothing. I looked on the ground and saw the queen lying dead."

"The king was not crying. He seemed stunned by the blow and stared at his dead wife with his face drawn. A man and woman who were beside him said they were part of the entourage. The man and woman gave me the king's and queen's joint passport, which was in the name of Monsieur and Madame Lambert."

"The king stood as though he were in a trance beside the body of the queen until the doctor suggested we ride back to Küssnacht to get his wounds dressed there before going to Lucerne."

"The king waited until the ambulance arrived from Lucerne, then climbed into the car and went to Küssnacht, from which he followed his wife's body to Lucerne. The chauffeur, who also was hurt, was taken back to Lucerne."

"It was horrible. Gendarme Jean Rogg and I were first impressed by the fact that the king did not talk, but later we learned he could not because his jaw was injured. The whole scene was of shock and amazement."

The king's villa and the scene of the accident were thronged with thousands of curious, but heavy lines of gendarmes kept them at a distance. Police said the queen was thrown more than 12 feet when the car struck the tree. Such was the force of the collision that the radiator was torn completely off the car.

Although gendarmes recognized the identity of the king and queen, it was some time before they revealed who the accident victims were, as the royal couple's passports bore inconspicuous names.

Early, a Swiss newspaper, printed the death of Madame Lambert, official confirmation came with the formal identification of Astrid's body by Peter Van Moos, Belgian consul at Lucerne.

Doctors took seven stitches in the king's arm and said he would be able to make the return by special train. The king's chauffeur, after treatment for shock, insisted upon returning to the wreck to get the king's and queen's belongings. He stowed these in a motorboat and went across the lake to the villa.

Informed quarters denied a report published abroad (not carried by the Associated Press) that the queen expected a fourth child.

Premier Paul von Van Zeeland arrived by special train from Brussels. He went in and dropped on his knees beside the king for a few minutes at the coffin.

At dusk the king asked to be alone with the queen and knelt before her coffin for nearly two hours.

BEIJING MOURNS HER DEAD QUEEN. BEIJING, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Belgium, stunned by the sudden and tragic death of her young and gracious queen, expressed her grief tonight in an official communique which said: "Still under the shock of the tragic death of King Albert, Belgium weeps for the queen whose youth, grace and kindness has conquered her people."

King Leopold was expected to arrive at 2:30 a. m. (Atlanta time) with the body and the funeral probably will be held tonight in all churches and will continue daily through the period of mourning.

A strange hush fell over this city, which is regularly one of the noisiest and most cheerful in Europe, as it entered a period of mourning which may last six months.

The mothers of Belgium were particularly affected by the accident which took the life of the happy young mother of three who had glorified household arts and been the constant and devoted companion of her royal husband.

Nation in Consternation. In the words of the official statement, which came in the form of a cabinet proclamation: "The whole country is in consternation. It shares the immense sorrow of the king. It is gathered faithfully and close around him."

"It bows with deep-felt tenderness over the royal princes and princesses who have a mother no longer."

From the lowlands of Antwerp to the wooded Aix-La-Chapelle hills, the red, yellow and black of the national colors flapped limply at half-staff in a fitful breeze atop public buildings and private homes, the traditional sign of mourning and one that swift tragedy had again overtaken the nation.

Children Not Told. The three children of the young queen had not been told of their mother's death. They are Princess Josephine Charlotte, seven; Prince Leopold, four; and Prince Albert, 14 months old, who was born after the death of his grandfather.

They arrived this morning by train. They had left their parents in Lucerne last night before the accident.

The stock exchange and all public entertainments were canceled for the period of mourning. Crowds gathered in small groups and quietly discussed the tragedy that befell the beloved queen.

The usually noisy and colorful sidewalk cafes were almost deserted tonight. Many of their habitués joined thousands who journeyed to the palace grounds to see the massive gates in silent mourning.

Peasants in Tears. Peasants trudging homeward from their day's work in the fields heard church bells mournfully calling the populace to prayers for the dead queen. Tears streamed unashamed down the faces of both simple country women and smartly dressed ones in the city.

Beer, Wine Curfew. A proposal by Councilman Frank Wilson, thirteenth ward, to ring the curfew on beer and wine sellers located outside the inner fire limits between midnight and 6 o'clock in the morning was side-tracked because Wilson is out of the city. It was held over for further consideration.

Ten men qualified for captain's positions in an examination recently held. They are J. H. Smith, C. C. Brooks, W. F. White, S. I. Belcher, W. E. Whitten, L. H. Evans, J. C. Allen, O. W. Allen, J. L. Ellis and Leo Nahlik.

Chief Sturdivant was asked to indicate a drive against noisy and boisterous places keeping open for business after midnight especially if located in residential districts.

E. S. Elliott, E. B. Clarke, R. M. Ector, L. H. Evans, J. D. Corley and H. B. Creevy were elected as regular patrolmen to fill vacancies and J. M. Jackson and T. P. Epps were added to the supernumerary list.

JOHNSON, DEFEATED, REFUSES TO CONCEDE

Mississippi's White, However, Goes Ahead With Plans for Victory Fete.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Though Paul B. Johnson, Hattiesburg attorney, defeated for the governorship of Mississippi on Tuesday's democratic primary, refused today to concede the election of Hugh L. White, Columbia capitalist, plans went forward in the White camp for a victory celebration here tomorrow night.

Virtually complete returns from the 82 counties of the state, compiled by the Associated Press, tonight fixed White's lead at more than 12,000 votes, and his nomination, tantamount to election in Mississippi, had been conceded by all fronts except the opposing candidate.

Johnson authorized his campaign manager to say he was "not conceding anything yet" but did not indicate whether he planned to contest the election before the democratic executive committee, meeting here next Wednesday to canvass the official returns.

With only two small precincts in Monroe county unreported, the Associated Press tabulation tonight showed White with 182,311, and Johnson 170,283.

FARM AND RAIL BILLS SIGNED BY ROOSEVELT

Three Other Major Measures Await Signature Before President Rests.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Three more major measures awaited President Roosevelt's formal signature tonight after another busy day of desk clearing.

Vacation relaxation, several weeks' rest at Hyde Park, N. Y., before a swift swing to the west coast, remained in abeyance.

After staying up until 1:30 a. m. for the second night in a row, Mr. Roosevelt signed into law the railroad retirement and Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage substitute for legislation outlawed last spring by the supreme court.

He has announced he will sign the Guffey coal stabilization bill tomorrow. The neutrality resolution also has received his approval, but its signing has been deferred.

The third important measure awaiting action is the $250,000,000 wealth tax bill. This is still under study by the Treasury Department, but since the President requested it, there seemed no doubt it will be signed.

Many Minor Bills. With a large stack of minor bills in the wire basket on his desk, the executive is keeping the White House lights burning far into the night in the hope that he can be ready to leave for his Hyde Park home by Saturday night.

But in addition to the work left by the departing congress, the whole range of other government activities was receiving presidential attention.

Over the customary luncheon tray which provides Mr. Roosevelt's noonday sustenance, he discussed foreign affairs with Robert W. Bingham, ambassador to Great Britain.

Announcement Delayed. He had given up the question of Russian-American relations at length with Secretary Hull yesterday, and an announcement of this government's future course with reference to its protest against communist activities is expected later in the week.

At a conference with heads of the various housing agencies, Mr. Roosevelt called for a co-ordinated program among them.

The National Youth Administration was the subject of a discussion with Aubrey Williams, its director, and John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education.

But despite the press of business, the President still finds time for some relaxation and has not forgotten his conversing friend and secretary, Louis M. Howe.

NEW MODEL CROSLEYS SHOWN RADIO DEALERS

Beck & Gregg Firm Is Host to 300 Dealers in Preview Showing.

"A Crosley radio for every need and every purse."

This was the slogan of H. E. Richardson, assistant to the president of the Crosley Radio Corporation, in charge of sales, introducing to dealers in this section the new Crosley models in a preview showing, banquet and entertainment in the Ansley hotel.

"With Crosley our dealers are placed in the fortunate position of being able to advertise one trade name the year round," said Mr. Richardson in referring to the new models and to the Crosley refrigerators which are distributed by Beck & Gregg Hardware Company.

His listeners were 300 dealers. He continued:

"Crosley this year is introducing the greatest array of radios in their history, giving every purchaser the choice of either the new metal tubes or the regulation glass tubes.

"No matter what the needs or the purse, there is a Crosley that is exactly right. There are models for fine American reception and many all-wave models that bring in broadcasts from the whole world. Crosley models meet the radio needs of the home, the farm,

MEAT PRICE STRIKE DECLARED BY WIVES

All Butcher Shops in Shenandoah, Pa., Picketed by Women.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Aug. 29.—(UP)—Housewives of suburban Shenandoah Heights declared a meat strike today and picketed all butcher shops and groceries.

The women demanded that retailers reduce meat prices by 20 per cent. Customers entering and leaving were stopped by the women pickets. Packages were seized and thrown to the ground.

The protest against high prices was ordered at a mass meeting yesterday by 500 housewives. Leaders said the strike would spread to Shenandoah, Mahanoy City, Frackville and Girardville tomorrow.

Current prices are 45 cents a pound for bacon, 25 cents for pork shoulder, 35 and 38 cents for pork chops, 33 cents for ham, 25 cents for lard.

COTTON MEET SET FOR ORCHARD HILL

Growers of Stoneville Variety To Hold Session Today.

GRiffin, Ga., Aug. 29.—(UP)—Growers of Stoneville cotton and Georgia farm leaders will gather at Orchard Hill tomorrow to attend the fourth annual session of the Orchard Hill Cotton Improvement Association, which will be featured by a business session, to be followed by a barbecue.

Speakers will include R. E. Rast, Harry L. Brown, Dr. S. V. Sanford, C. A. McLendon, E. C. Westbrook, L. I. Skinner, G. B. Walker, originator and breeder of Stoneville No. 2 cotton seed, who lives in Stoneville, Miss., is expected to be present and speak.

The Orchard Hill association introduced the one-variety cotton movement in Georgia four years ago and since that time, the plan has spread to all parts of the state.

W. C. Nelson is president of the association. Carson Crawley is vice president, and Albert G. Swint is secretary-treasurer and ginners. John Harlow is Spalding county agent.

GRACE MOORE GIVEN WELCOME ON RETURN

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Grace Moore, opera and screen star, came here today from European triumphs and it was a field day for press agents.

An airplane spelled "welcome home" Grace Moore" in smoking letters a mile high, as the liner Rex sailed into port. A second plane streaked across the sky with a banner bearing a similar legend.

Harbor craft tooted sirens. Even the press agents looked surprised at this, but it was probably because the Rex had aboard five men rescued at sea.

H. B. GARRETT, 38, DIES OF INJURIES IN CRASH

Mrs. E. A. Coker, Hurt in Same Wreck Saturday, Improves.

H. B. Garrett, 38, died yesterday at Emory University hospital of injuries suffered Sunday when the automobile in which he was riding with Mrs. E. A. Coker, of 2056 Emory place, plunged over an embankment on North Candler road, near the Clairmont road.

Mrs. Coker, at first believed to have been the most seriously injured, was reported as improved yesterday at Emory University hospital. She suffered a fracture of the skull, fractures of both arms and other injuries.

Garrett was a bus operator for the Georgia Power Company and had been an inspector.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Helen Garrett; a son, H. B. Garrett Jr.; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garrett; four sisters, Mrs. Robert Milton, of Bloomfield, N. J.; Mrs. W. H. Thompson, Mrs. A. W. Smith and Mrs. O. H. Lane, and a brother, R. H. Garrett.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son with the Rev. H. H. Shirley officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

LAKELAND SELLS GAS TO FORCE PRICE CUT

LAKELAND, Fla., Aug. 29.—(AP)—The city commission today placed Lakeland in the retail gasoline business, effective this afternoon.

Action was taken because of "recurring discrimination in prices here and in Hillsborough county, where the price is at least three cents lower," city officials said.

CROSS SECTIONS

Dean Raimundo de Ories, who returned recently from the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., will preach at 11 o'clock next Sunday in the Cathedral of St. Philip. 15. A uniform driver's license law.

16. A law compelling liability insurance or a "responsibility" law.

The intersection of Boulevard and Ponce de Leon avenue, the surveys found, is Atlanta's worst corner, with 19 accidents during the time of the survey. Fair and Fraser street was next with 17, Piedmont and Ponce de Leon running third with 16.

"The analysis of 650 plotted accidents," the report sets forth, "shows that very few were the result of the weather, the condition of the car, blind corners or other physical defects at the locations. The fault generally rested with the participants."

In order, these causes are:

1. Speeding.
2. Driver or pedestrian not having right-of-way.
3. Drunken drivers.
4. Reckless driving.
5. Defective brakes, lights, etc.

Speeding Studied.

Speeding was studied at 237 locations, including the 120 "worst corners," mid-block locations, school intersections and "key" stations. Offenders were tabulated at 83 per cent passenger cars and taxicabs, 7 per cent light trucks, and 10 per cent heavy trucks.

The study of traffic lights revealed that only 76 per cent of Atlanta pedestrians cross the street legally at intersections. The survey charged, however, that the traffic control system does not give the pedestrian proper protection. The survey further points out that at Alabama and Whitehall, where the amber lights show for five seconds and which is one of the heaviest traffic intersections in the city, and where left turns against the light are prohibited, less confusion is the rule and greater safety the result.

Hand Signals.

With respect to hand signalling by motorists, the survey recommends that one signal, the arm extended horizontally, serve to warn the driver behind that a right or left turn or a stop is to be made.

Codification of traffic laws is recommended with the view to improving traffic law enforcement and to enactment of necessary laws.

"It is evident," the report concludes, "that the installation of more junior safety councils and schoolboy patrols would contribute to the safety of the children. High school students need to observe walkways and at the same time be more cautious. The practices of elementary students are much better than most of high schools, but 24 per cent of the injuries studied occurred among elementary school students because of their greater number."

"Bicycle riding caused 25 per cent. Riding in automobiles caused 17 per cent. Crossing or darting into the paths of automobiles resulted in 22 per cent. There is a record of one accident every day for the first five months of the years 1931 to 1933. The need for safety is evident."

Success of the fall market week conducted in Atlanta recently has warranted preparation of plans for a second style showing of similar nature here in February, when spring and summer styles are being purchased on the wholesale market, it was announced yesterday.

The Atlanta manufacturers and jobbers who co-operated in the first market week will be sponsoring the spring market week, according to Milton S. Rice, general chairman of the program, said yesterday. All the participating companies were pleased with results of the wholesale drive that attracted retail buyers from the southeastern territory to Atlanta to make their fall purchases.

If the spring market week proves as successful as the fall showing, the manufacturers plan to organize a permanent group to sponsor the semi-annual showings.

The first market week was sponsored to show southeastern buyers the natural advantages of Atlanta as a distribution center.

TUGWELL'S SIGNATURE TO END ROAD FUND ROW

Georgia Officials Await Final Word From Washington to Start Work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Thomas H. MacDonald, Federal Roads Bureau chief, submitted to Undersecretary of Agriculture Tugwell today for his signature a letter which it was understood will terminate the Georgia highway controversy and give the go-ahead signal to the state's $19,000,000 federal roads construction program.

Georgia's allotted millions have been withheld during a dispute between the federal bureau and the State Highway Board over the "adequacy" of the latter's road-building organization. The letter was expected to seek an adjustment of the final points at issue.

In the absence of Secretary Wallace, Tugwell will sign the communication.

Pending official announcement of the end of the controversy, the Georgia Highway Board continued to mark time yesterday but Chairman W. E. Wilburn said that the department was proceeding with plans for expenditure of the $19,000,000 which has been tied up because of the controversy.

"We can do nothing until we hear from Washington officially," the board chairman said. "When that notice comes the highway board will speed action."

8-INCH RAINFALL

Florida Expects Still More Precipitation.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Heavy clouds gave indications tonight of still more rain in west Florida as this area slushed through mud and looked hopefully for a break in the heavy precipitation.

St. Marks, a little village 20 miles south of here, had the heaviest rainfall today. It reported eight inches, and an overflow tide from the St. Marks river which made its unpaved streets and the road leading out from the town virtually impassable.

Misses Bradley and Guest Create Unusual Social Interest at Sea Island

By Sally Forth.

ATLANTANS returning from Sea Island Beach inform Sally that among the most attractive visitors to this popular Georgia resort are Misses Jessica and Virginia Bradley, of Swainsboro, Ga., and their guest, Miss Nancy Holton, of Essex Fells, N. J. The Misses Bradley are daughters of Colonel and Mrs. A. S. Bradley and with their parents, are spending a month at their cottage on Sea Island drive. Sally hears that the charm and beauty of the Georgia belles and their New Jersey visitor are adding distinct pleasure to the social gayeties given by the colony spending summer's last days at this fashionable seashore.

With other members of Sea Island's younger set, the trio enjoy daily the aquatic sports afforded in the Casino pool and the near-by ocean waters. Their striking appearance in smart evening dress at the dinners and dances has caused much complimentary comment from their many admirers. It seems that Miss Holton and Jessica Bradley became friends when both were enrolled at Gunston Hall in Washington. Since their graduation from this well-known school Jessica has visited Miss Holton at Westover, the handsome estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Holton, near Essex Fells, N. J.

Jessica and Nancy are of the exotic brunet type of beauty. While at Gunston they were considered among the most attractive members of the student body. They enjoyed wide popularity with their classmates and were much sought after figures attending the balls and other social functions given for the college set in the national capital. Sally understands that before Miss Holton returns to her home in the east, that she and Jessica will visit Atlanta. If so, they are sure to receive a royal welcome from those Atlantans who have enjoyed their friendship at Sea Island.

AN attractive young Atlanta business girl was marooned by a cloud burst in a drug store during her lunch hour. She paced impatiently up and down the entrance to the building quite worried for fear she would be late getting back to her work. A young man watched her expression with obvious interest, and finally approaching her, suggested that she walk under his umbrella.

"It won't be a bit of trouble, because I'm going that way anyway," he remarked.

In desperation, the young lady accepted with many thanks. As they walked down the street, the gentleman inquired as to where she worked, and when she told him, he named several people whom he knew employed in the same type of business. She had heard some of these names, but others were unfamiliar to her. When she arrived at her office, she thanked her new friend and left him at the door.

About 4:30 o'clock the telephone in her office rang, and a vaguely familiar voice announced "It looks like it's going to rain again. May I take you home?"

"No, thank you," she replied, "I have a ride with some friends."

She hung up the receiver and smiled at the looked out the window upon an August sun which shone in all its golden glory.

TO Mrs. Ralph Glenn Eckert, the former Elizabeth Flinn, goes the distinction of leaving her brand-new husband at the church after their wedding yesterday. And all because she was camera shy. At the young couple left the church they were "on the spot" as they faced a lineup of newspaper photographers ready to "shoot" them.

At her first glance at the flock of cameramen the pretty bride broke away from her husband and ran out of range of the camera lenses. It was not until the photographers promised to dismantle their cameras and put them away, did the bride rejoin her startled bridegroom who was waiting at the church.

MARGARET PALMER, charming young editor of the Brookwood Bugle, celebrated her sixteenth birthday yesterday, the date falling a short while after the anniversary of her paper. Margaret and her sisters, Jeanette and Laura, have for several years successfully run this publication, which covers the activities of Brookwood residents.

Margaret recently inaugurated the entertaining and chatty column which she titles "Mag Pie." Mag is an abbreviation of Margaret, and Pie is the title that she has adopted for her literary use. Sally feels that Margaret and her staff are to be commended for their unusual prowess in putting out their creditable news sheet.

For Miss Redding.

Miss Jennie Redding, a bride-elect of September, was honored guest at a surprise handkerchief shower given by Mrs. Murray Frizzelle and Miss Thelma Cowart at their home on Seminary drive in Decatur recently. Present were Misses Mary and Frances Kneer, Stella Bell, Jennie Redding, Mesdames Edwin Grant and Bill Christian.

How To Keep Looking Young

If you would like to have the charm and loveliness of a beautiful skin with a youthful appearance; if you want your skin to be soft, smooth and delightful to touch as well as to look upon, use Cu-Crema, the new all-in-one complexion treatment. It eliminates the need of ordinary face powder entirely as well as foundation cream, astringent lotion and finishing lotion.

Cu-Crema is different from anything you have ever used—different in its method of application, different in its action on the skin, and in the marvelous results it produces. It is guaranteed to remove "shininess" immediately, changing the unattractive appearance of red, sealy, coarse or oily skin to one of delightful loveliness.

Try Cu-Crema today. The transformation of your complexion into one of rare attractiveness and charm will come about so quickly that you can hardly believe your own mirror. One trial and you will never want to be without Cu-Crema. See at all drug and department stores.—(adv.)

Fifth District Garden Division Makes Plans For Beautifying City

The enthusiasm and interest shown in the Atlanta plan of beautification with plantings of dogwood and crape myrtle has encouraged those bending every effort to consummate this outstanding project as speedily as possible. The garden divisions of departmental clubs and garden clubs met and studied the requirements of their communities, turning the results over to the city planning committee to be incorporated in a working map.

At a recent meeting with Mayor James L. Key, Raymond W. Torres, city planning commission; George Simmons, city park commission; Mrs. P. J. McGovern, president of the Fifth District of Georgia Federation of Women's Club, and Mrs. J. H. Phagan, the chairman of the fifth district garden division of G. F. W. C., points of the dogwood city plans were discussed. Steps are being taken to survey the labor requirements needed to transplant the first year's allotment of two-year-old dogwoods at what a definite project may be worked out with the PWA.

Miss Gay B. Shepperson was enthusiastic in her reply that she is ways interested to co-operate in community beautification plans. Mayor Key discussed the feasibility of propagating the necessary crape myrtle bushes on new land acquired by the city of Atlanta.

Mayor Key said that the matter of maintenance had given him much food for thought until the fifth district garden division, G. F. W. C., suggested that each club act as guardian for the nearest plantings. Mrs. J. H. Phagan will appoint a committee whose purpose it will be to notify each club as plantings are made in its vicinity so as to the method of its supervision. Mayor Key recalled that Atlanta possessed an old waterway which was ideal for properly watering the newly set out trees and shrubs during the first year, which is always critical.

Mrs. Paul J. McGovern urges every woman to constitute herself a "conservation agent," educating and pleading with our children to confine their carvings and whittling to dead trees and bits of wood easily obtainable for this purpose. Willis Sutton pointed out that he was happy to endorse and encourage this project, but that most of the school children he visited and cared for the grounds, not only with crape myrtle and dogwood trees, but with borders which are listed among the noteworthy gardens to be visited by garden lovers. These plantings have been carried out by the school children under the supervision of their teachers and it is little wonder that visitors to Atlanta exclaim in surprise that our gardens and street plantings need so little protection from rowdiness.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Don K. Johnston, every club has adopted a certain flower as its distinguishing mark. It will be the purpose of the clubs to use their flowers and shrubs in beautifying their various club projects as well as to combine with each other in various larger community plantings.

Some communities have completed beautification projects in which each organization is represented in a well-kept beds in a public park or around railroad right-of-ways or public buildings.

FEATHER IN HER HAT

dead in the pool, were twisted out of shape. Wells' death is reported as a suicide because he was alone at the time. But she plants the dummy body in a place of excitement at the dinner. Cp is a classic. And Ann is surprised when she finds it in Minnie's. Returning, they are wrecked on a mountain. Ann escaping with Ralph and Lee. The next day, after a searching plane finds them a day later. Mollie, reappears, picks Ann up in their car at Minnie's house.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XXV

Ann delved in her memory for the still vivid picture of that group standing on the edge of the reflecting pool the moment before the explosion. She could not be sure as to the relative position of each one, but she was almost prepared to take an oath that

...the "Rhinbrecker" was almost a human being Wells' immediate relief.

"I don't know," she said, "but I think you're good work with the census office. The job required a little mental effort and no one said anything unless you were late to work or failed to check the cards properly; but her New England conscience punished her for her inattention and generosity."

She knew what was behind it, of course, until she had come to Washington, her life had been unbelievably simple. But in the little more than two months here too much had happened. Too many loose ends were being pulled together, too many things lying in the shadows, of her life.

Selma greeted Ann by unexpectedly kissing her on the cheek. They were all a little startled by the gesture. She derived the reason as she observed Selma's changed attitude toward Rita. It was "Rita, my dear . . . , my dear . . . , and you lovely thing, you."

Deane Funnbrecker had been astounded. Mollie's friend at police headquarters had made up accusations, but she felt that the police believed her. She had enough circumstantial evidence to send Deane to the chain. "I told him like a hot coal." "You really think that. Ann?" But Selma knew without asking that Ann was being honest with her. She knew that Selma was not the sort of girl made clear to Ann a little later when Selma was getting into her coat.

When Selma had gone, Mollie said over her coffee cup, "You didn't come out in time to hear the grand news, but I think you're going to get to Boston with us. Selma looks like she expected us to cheer when she made the announcement. I suppose there

THE SIZE OF WHALES.

How big is a whale? That question has many answers, for whales differ a great deal in size. One kind of whale, living in the South Sea, is only about 10 feet long when full grown.

In the seas around Australia is the smallest of the whalebone type of whales. The adults have a length of not more than 20 feet.

The California gray whale is hard

One middle-sized sulphur-bottom was not quite 80 feet long, but it weighed 65 tons. In other words, if it was held up on one side of a giant pair of balancing scales, it would have held up 20 elephants of average size!

Another sulphur bottom, captured by Captain G. M. Scammon, had a length of 95 feet, and its jawbone alone measured 21 feet. It supplied 800 pounds of whalebone, and 110 barrels of oil.

An even larger whale of this kind was reported a few years ago. The length was given as 108 feet, and the weight as 85 tons.

The Greenland right whale has other names, among them "bowhead" and "Arctic right whale." Usually it is not more than 70 feet long; but it supplies a great amount of whalebone sometimes as much as a ton and a half. The oil yield of a right whale may run from 250 to 300 barrels. It is believed that the name came from the old custom of whalers pointing out this kind of whale as the "right" one to capture.

These skeletons show that the flipper bones are supplied with large bones; and whale bones have been compared, in general shapes, with the bones in a human hand.

Are you serving a MINUS MEAL?

Many wives, unknowingly, serve "minus meals." The food is well cooked. But it has little or no "bulk"—needed for regular habits.

"Minus meals" frequently cause common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in the diet. Head aches, loss of appetite and dull, spiritless days too often follow.

Correct the "minus meal" by serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its gentle "bulk" does not break down in the body as much as the fiber in fruits and vegetables. So it is more effective. ALL-BRAN also supplies vit min B and iron.

Certainly it is safer to use this natural food in place of patent medicines. Two table-spoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If relief is not obtained, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, waffles, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Popular Figures at Sea Island

Miss Flinn Weds Mr. Eckert At North Avenue Church Rites

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Flinn and Ralph Glenn Eckert, of San Jose, Cal., was impressively solemnized Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. The Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, pastor of the church and father of the bride, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

Seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers were placed at each end of the altar, which was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns. Easter lilies and white gladioli were placed in the center vase upon the altar.

The lovely bride entered the church with her brother, Richard Orme Flinn Jr., and her other brother, William Adam Flinn, was best man. She was groomed in a charming ensemble of brown silk fashioned along distinctive tailored lines, worn with a gold lame blouse and short skirt. She wore matching accessories and a shoulder spray of tallman roses.

Mrs. Flinn, mother of the bride, was groomed in an ensemble of dark blue, featuring a jacket fashioned with long, full sleeves, with which she wore a dark blue hat and matching accessories. Completing her costume was a shoulder bouquet of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

After the ceremony Rev. and Mrs. Flinn honored the young couple at a luncheon at their home on Springdale road. Decorations for the bride's table were blue and white aster arranged in silver bowls, and silver candlesticks containing blue candles were placed at each end. Mr. and Mrs. Eckert left for their wedding trip, after which they will reside in San Jose, where Mr. Eckert is a member of the faculty of the San Jose College.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30.

The Phi Pi Club meet today at the home of Miss Nancy Calhoun on Pace's Ferry road at 3 o'clock.

The McLendon Avenue Civic Club meets with the president, Mrs. W. A. Webb, 2065 McLendon avenue, at 8 o'clock.

The Seth Parker Club of Kirkwood meets at 8 o'clock with Mrs. J. R. Glass, 1929 Boulevard drive, S. E.

Executive board of Atlanta Council of Parents and Teachers meets at 10 o'clock in Rich's conference room.

Linwood Garden Club.

Linwood Garden Club met with Miss Dorothy Martin on Barnett street, and Mrs. A. N. Anderson, the president, won the prize, a dainty vase. Miss Edith Harrison was guest speaker, her subject being "Practical Points in a Good Design." Miss Harrison urged that gardens be considered with relationship to the architecture of the house and that landscaping should be kept simple and more native plants and shrubs be used.

Mrs. J. O. Bartlett read a paper on "Pilot." Mrs. T. M. Haygood, of Culloden, and Miss Kate Neely were guests. Plans were made for members to invite their husbands to a steak supper at Dogwood Farm, the summer home of Jake Hall, early in September.

Registration begins promptly at 10 o'clock. All members of the board of managers of the fifth district, executive board members of the Atlanta, Fulton, Decatur and DeKalb councils are urged to attend. Open conference will be held for one hour. Departmental conferences will last for one hour.

FAMOUS TONIC CREAM QUICKLY TRANSFORMS DEAD SKIN

3 minutes a day ends freckles, blackheads, too!

Famous NADINOLA Cream actually smoothes away the dull, dead cuticle that hides your natural beauty. All you do is this: (1) At bedtime spread a thin film of Nadinola Cream over your face—no massaging, no rubbing. (2) Leave on while you sleep. (3) Watch daily improvement—usually in 5 to 10 days you will see a marvelous transformation. Freckles, blackheads disappear; dull, coarsened skin becomes creamy-white, soft-smooth, lovely. Fine results positively guaranteed with NADINOLA—tested and trusted for nearly two generations. At all toilet counters only 50c. Or write NADINOLA, Box 40, Paris, Tenn.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD
Friendship is a beautiful thing, but it is not to be taken for granted. It is a thing that must be earned and maintained. It is a thing that is not to be taken for granted. It is a thing that is not to be taken for granted.

Dear Miss Chatfield: Many years ago I married a poor fellow who had nothing but ambition. I piled in and worked with him to build up a business, working the same hours he did. We succeeded and before many years had passed owned our home and other good property. During this time he gave me money liberally to his large family and I approved his helping them. Today he is making more money than ever and getting tighter and tighter and tighter with me. But this is not all. We have two lovely children of whom we are very proud and everything to make us happy yet I am miserable. My husband stays out half the night and when he comes in he is silent and morose. If I question him he is infuriated, tells me he is old enough to attend to his own business. His temper is violent and when he punishes the children he leaves bruises and marks that stay with them for weeks. Recently he has taken to drink. When I see how selfish he is I almost hate him. Though I realize how necessary it is for me to keep my head in order to raise these children properly, I am getting to be a nervous wreck. Can a woman continue to love a man who tortures her this way? Can you help me with suggestions as to how I may change him?

DEFEATED.

Answer: Nothing but a guilty conscience or a diseased brain will make a man behave toward his wife and children as your husband is behaving. You should get him to a psychiatrist and find out if he is mentally normal. If he is then you may be reasonably sure that his sense of guilt toward his family is lashing him and making him brutal in his home. One might suppose that the man who violates his marriage, outrages an innocent wife and would be all the more kindly and considerate in his home, yet quite the contrary is true. He hates himself for his cowardly conduct and vents his hate on his family. The sight of his wife accuses him. Her questions condemn him. Her nervous agitation enrages him. Day and night he is harassed by fear of being found out. He is goaded and goaded by the consciousness of his contemptible character. No wonder his temper is half-triggered and fires at the slightest excuse. No wonder his wife breaks under the strain of such a life!

Some women do continue to love a man who tortures them, but if anything will kill a woman's affection for her husband and turn her love to hate it is to labor under a sense of injustice at his hands. For a woman to slave and save to help a man get on his financial feet and then when he gets his stance have him treat her as though she had no part in his success and no claim on his pocketbook, is the grossest injustice. For a woman to work hard rearing her family, being a good wife and mother and then have her husband in her home and administer merciless punishment to the children, is an outrage. Yet so long as he controls the bank account, does the cash, ignores her and treats the children until the blood comes and flesh is bruised, she is pretty much at his mercy. She doesn't want to take action to the court, she doesn't want to break up her home. She wants him to be decent and fair and fine.

Just a few things she can do: Catch him when he is calm and as possible, tell him how she feels. Show him the unfairness and the injustice of what he is doing. Any discussion of the subject while he is drinking, or when he has come to a hard head, might only serve to harden him in his meanness. If she can never find opportunity for a dispassionate discussion, she can put up with it as long as she can. Many wives have found this an efficacious method of reaching their husband's ears. A man has to get down mighty far before he is ready to listen. (The average man has a well-developed sense of fairness.) If he can be made to see what a despicable attitude he is taking toward a woman who helped to put him where he is, if he can be made to understand how he is forfeiting his chance at his children's love and respect, it must certainly make him think.

One other thing his wife can do is to endure as patiently as possible what she cannot change and to hope for the children's sake hang on hoping, hoping that the turn may come. It generally does for even the weak and wicked husbands who outrage their wives and run out on their marriage don't want their homes broken up by divorce. When they are straining at the bonds that hold them, they secretly hope the bonds won't break in two.

Isn't that queer creature? Brave and cowardly, tough and tender, weak and strong, good and bad, all by turns. And their wives are expected to make the best of each turn.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I have been in love with a girl for a long time and she says she loves me. Will a girl who loves a boy break dates with him, to date other boys and then tell him about what she has done?

R. V.

Answer: Hardly. Love will make a girl a confirmed liar, truthful for a little while at least. Love will make a girl immune to interest in other boys as effectively as vaccination will make her immune to smallpox—for a little while at least. Don't pin your faith to any girl who is deceitful and artful with you. This is not love's way.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

2 LIFE-TERMS SEEK EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY

Governor Talmadge yesterday took under advisement applications for executive clemency filed in behalf of two Atlantans who are serving life sentences for murder.

The first was the plea for Claude C. Rourke who shot and killed Miss Vena Moore, a telephone operator, here 10 years ago. The second was in behalf of J. R. Gattis, convicted of the murder of his wife here in 1932.

Solicitor General John A. Borkin appeared before the Governor to present both pleas. Judge W. W. Armistead, of Lexington, suggested the Rourke appeal, while Gattis was represented by Joe Ben Jackson, of Gray.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

A Dandruff Shampoo That Has a Very Excellent Reputation

By MIGNON.
One of the best shampoo liquids, a soap affair, and one long on the market, should interest you. Most women either melt their favorite soap in water and bottle it for shampoo, because that is the simplest way to use it, or they buy a liquid soap of some kind. This liquid has been tried and found not wanting.

The method of using it is slightly different from the plain soapy liquids that you use as you would a bar of soap. You wet the hair thoroughly with warm water, then shake on some of the shampoo liquid. Rub thoroughly into the scalp. The hair will become sort of sticky. When it does, begin to pour quite warm water over the hair and rub gently. As the suds form and get thicker and thicker, pour on more water. You shake off the suds and rub again and again, each time rubbing more water into what is left of the shampoo liquid as you shake off (or squeeze off) more of the white suds.

When you have rinsed sufficiently to get just about all of the suds out, use a vinegar rinse.

A vinegar rinse is made this way:

Culbertson on Contract

Locking Out Declarer.

While errors usually contribute to the fireworks in the more spectacular hands, the killizer who is a true connoisseur gets a real thrill from watching the moves and counter-moves of expert players as they maneuver in attack and defense.

In today's hand South's technique was faultless, but East and West's defense was brilliant, and against it declarer was helpless.

The Play.

West opened the four of spades and East's queen fell to the king. With two suits to be set up South properly chose diamonds as the first one to develop, since it was necessary to remove the ace of diamonds which, if held by West would be a sure re-entry to his possible five-card spade suit.

West ducked two rounds and finally took the ace on the third lead, returning the jack of spades.

With the club finesse still to be taken, South refused to win this trick, hoping that if the finesse went wrong East would be unable to return his partner's suit.

When West was allowed to hold the jack, however, he realized all hope of bringing in his own suit was gone.

From the bidding it appeared unlikely enough tricks could be developed in clubs to defeat the contract, since it was necessary to remove the ace of diamonds which, if held by West would be a sure re-entry to his possible five-card spade suit.

THE BOOK-GAME

$1,800 in Cash Prizes for Book Titles!

By THE BOOK-GAME EDITOR.

Entrants in the $1,800 Book-Game are on their last lap toward the $5 prizes. This is the final week of the contest. Picture No. 80, the last of the series, will be published Monday, September 2.

These 10 informative paragraphs will be helpful to those who would be counted among the winners:

1. Book-Game answers do not have to be submitted before Saturday, September 14. None will be checked or judged before that date, so there's no advantage in getting them in early.
2. Please arrange your pictures and answer blanks in numerical order, placing No. 1 first or on top. Do not crease or fold them if avoidable.
3. Be sure that your set consists of the entire series of 80 pictures and answer blanks. Sets that have more or less than that number will be rejected.
4. Be sure that your name and address appear on each answer blank.
5. Be sure that you haven't written more than one title on any one answer blank.
6. Be sure that your solutions are reasonably accurate. If you are undecided between two or more titles for any of the pictures, remember the liberal rules permit contestants to turn in extra sets containing alternative choices.
7. Remember that all titles must be chosen from the book, "What To Read," by Richmond Knight, as provided in the rules. Titles not found in "What To Read" will not be considered by the judges.

The Most Appropriate Book Title for This Picture Is:

No. 76

Name _____
Address _____

INSTRUCTIONS.
Cash prizes totaling $1,800 are to be awarded to the winners of the Book-Game. The first prize is $1,000, the second prize $400, the third $100, the fourth $75, and the fifth $25. There are 10 prizes of $10 each and 20 prizes of $5 each.

The prizes will be given to those who send in the most appropriate book title answers for the series of 80 pictures. All contestants of Georgia and adjacent states, who have not won

$1,000 or more in a previous contest conducted by this newspaper, are eligible to win. Contestants must be residents of the United States and must be at least 18 years of age. To obtain subscriptions in order to qualify for any of the prizes, and non-subscribers are eligible. There are no letters to write, essays to solve, or puzzles to answer. All that is necessary to register and to submit NOW. WAIT UNTIL ALL the pictures have been published, then bring them in with your answers, as a set.

This Little Peach Went Into Pie, This One Into Pudding.

By FLORENCE LA GANKE.

Ship Rammaged, Sunk.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The schooner Emma Temple, carrying a load of 7,000 watermelons, was rammaged and sunk by the tug Columbia off North point in Chesapeake bay early today. All aboard were saved.

HOUSEHOLD ARTS

By ALICE BROOKS.

The market was well supplied with peaches. They looked so tempting that Nancy bought more than she really needed but she could think of a number of ways in which to use them.

As she was walking home from the green grocer's she counted the desserts she had in mind for these peaches.

First, of course, was the simple dish of sliced peaches well sugared, and eaten with plenty of cream and cake.

Second, there was peach ice cream which she could make at home without much difficulty.

Third, there was baked peach pie with strap crust and modern peach pie made without cooking and using the sweetened condensed milk. That gave her four desserts.

The fifth one she thought of was baked peach tapioca. That could use some of the less ripe peaches since it took long cooking to bring out the flavor of the peaches and blend them with the tapioca.

Sixth, she could make a lemon gelatin base and fold in sliced peaches. This simple dessert was always a favorite. So was junket served well chilled and with sliced peaches.

Nancy has a leaflet on "Pickles and Relishes." Send a stamped, addressed envelope for your copy. Write her care of The Atlanta Constitution.

N. Y. SCHOOLS FACE POLIO QUARANTINE

53 New Cases Are Reported There; Navy Lifts Virginia Ban.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(AP)—With 53 new cases of infantile paralysis reported today, the health department announced there would be a conference Tuesday to determine whether the schools should reopen on September 9, as scheduled.

Earlier, Mayor F. H. LaGuardia said he had been assured there was no occasion for alarm and that the schools would open on the regular date.

There have been 1,063 cases of the disease in New York city so far this year.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The navy today lifted its infantile paralysis quarantine in Virginia, extending 16 southern counties.

Under the quarantine, new recruits in the state were stopped and midshipmen were prohibited from going there on leave.

Crackers Take Train Bill From Pels Before Record Crowd

It was in 1912 that one of the greatest pitching careers in baseball has ever known ended.

And yesterday afternoon, waiting around for the Crackers and Pelicans to go out for their night games, I saw the boy who is trying to write the second chapter.

BIG ED WALSH.

Edward Walsh Jr. is here with the Pelicans as a pitcher. Edward Walsh Jr. has yet to attain the pitching heights. He is a brilliant pitcher at times and the next time is knocked out of the box. He hits well. It may be that some manager will send him to the outfield. Because Ed Walsh Jr. started pitching because his father was one of the greatest of all time. Maybe the greatest right-hander.

George Stallings, who was later to become the only miracle manager baseball has had, and who died a few years ago on a Georgia farm, was the first to spot the young pitcher. This was in 1903. But no one listened to George Stallings' tip (later no one missed any of them).

It was after two years of minor league pitching that he joined the Chicago White Sox. And beginning with 1904 and continuing through 1912 he was the best the game ever knew.

He went on for a few years after 1912, but the arm was gone. He'd thrown it away in overwork. When he was the greatest figure in the game he was making a salary of $3,500. Today his son is making almost that much as a minor league pitcher. And pitchers who could go half a game with him are drawing $10,000 and better a year in the majors today.

Which is ironic. But which doesn't keep the Big Moose from being a genial guy who likes to sing and tell stories.

SPEAKING OF RECORDS.

There is no record quite like his. The magnificent and unbelievable section of it extends across six years, 1906 to 1912, inclusive.

He was a pitcher of the "spitter," most difficult of all pitches to throw. And the most difficult to hit. No one else ever really controlled that delivery as did the Big Moose. He didn't know how to pitch it when he joined the club for training. He learned it from another pitcher who couldn't control it.

His greatest year was 1908. He took part in 66 ball games that year, winning 40 and losing 15. The year 1908 is a fairly modern year and there is no record close to that one—40 victories and 15 losses in 66 ball games.

He pitched that year 464 innings, or 52 complete games. And that number happens to be a bit more than one-third of the entire number of games played all season. He went right along through 1912. He worked in 62 games in 1912 and won 27 of them. But that was all. The big right arm that had whipped that dancing, daffy spitter in there through six blazing years was done. All the go had gone out of it. The arm was there. But the old zing was gone. He tried it at Milwaukee and at Bridgeport. And then he scouted for a while. He lives in Connecticut.

THOSE SIX YEARS.

But no one can match that six-year record. It included 350 games for an average of 51 per season.

He and the late "Addie" Joss, of Cleveland, met in one of the really historic games in baseball's history. That was in 1908, Walsh's greatest year. And he lost the game.

Addie Joss was another right-hander. His major league career lasted only nine years. But for four consecutive years he won 20 or more games.

And on October 2, 1908, at Cleveland, Ohio, he and Walsh were the opposing pitchers. Both clubs were

GREENBERG HITS 34TH HOME RUN AS TIGERS WIN

Yanks Idle; Wes Ferrell Scores 20th Victory Over Macks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(UP)—Detroit increased its American league lead to 9 1/2 games today by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 13-3, while the New York Yankees were idle. Greenberg hit his 34th homer and Gehrig and Rogell connected for circuit blows in the Tigers' 16-hit attack on Walkup and Coffman. It was the Tigers' 14th victory in 17 games with the Browns. Edlong Auker allowed nine hits, blanking the Browns until the eighth, for his 14th victory.

Wesley Ferrell scored his 20th victory in pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 6-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. The triumph enabled the Red Sox to move into fourth place, half a game ahead of the idle White Sox. Ferrell gave up eight hits. The Red Sox made 10 hits off Johnny Marcano, including homers by Cronin and Cooke, a triple by Roy Johnson and doubles by Dahlgren, Cronin and Roy Johnson.

HOLDITCH WINS FIRST MATCH, 4-3

ALBANY, Ga., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Two former champions will meet in the second round of the ninth annual Radium Springs golf tournament tomorrow.

Johannie Oliver, most famous member of the golfing Olivers of Valdosta, today defeated Kid Brown, of Atlanta, 2 and 1, in the opening round of the championship flight. He will meet Tommy Barnes, 1933 champion, of Atlanta, who defeated George Couvres, of Valdosta, 2 up, this afternoon.

Stanley Holditch, of Atlanta, defending champion, took Daughtry McKoy, of Valdosta, today by a score of 4 and 3. Bob Chestnut, of Griffin, had a comparatively easy time in eliminating the medalist, Byron Bower, of Bainbridge, 3 and 2.

Mercer Blanchard, captain of the Columbus team which won the trophy in yesterday's qualifying round, lost to John Owens, of Atlanta, 4 and 3. Dupont Kivren Jr., of Columbus, defeated Ed Kalmann Jr., of Albany, 1 up.

Elliott Waddell, of Columbus, went three extra holes to defeat Paul Brown Jr., of Albany, 1 up, on the 21st. John Harkness Jr., of Atlanta, won in easy fashion from Dan Sage Jr., a fellow townsman, 6 and 5.

A driving rain throughout the day was a constant hazard to the players but did very little damage to the course.

Results of first round, second flight: Holditch, 4 and 3, defeated Edlong Auker, Atlanta, 4 and 3.
 John McKenna, Montauk, Ga., defeated Walter H. Tamm, Fla., 6 and 4.
 Jack Rothman, Atlanta, defeated H. J. R. C. Parker, Tallahassee, Fla., defeated Dawson Hagelstad, Atlanta, 19, 19 holes.
 Four other second-flight matches were postponed because of rain. They were: Doves, Brown, Atlanta; Jennings, Rich and Tiff, Albany; Tom Perry, Tampa, Fla.; Charles Davis, Albany, and Charles Palmer, America, vs. W. D. Tamm, Atlanta.

First round, third flight: Edlong Auker, Griffin, defeated J. O. Fuller, Valdosta, 5 and 4.
 Earl McKenna, Montauk, defeated R. J. King, Tampa, 5 and 4.
 C. E. Bell, Atlanta, defeated Ed Lewis, Monticello, 3 and 4.
 J. R. McConnell, Atlanta, defeated Maynard Battle, Monticello, 8 and 6.
 Charles Burnett, Pratt, defeated Seaton Bailey, Griffin, default.

Wadley Is Not Coming to Tech
 The announcement a few days ago that Frank Wadley, star end on the Georgia Tech football team of 1935, had accepted an offer to coach the ends at his alma mater, was refuted yesterday.

It was revealed that Wadley has not and will not accept such an offer. And that in fact, he has other plans for the fall.

He Put Hooks to Pelicans

Alex Hooks, star Cracker first baseman, really put the hooks into the Pelicans last night when they met the Crackers in a double header that saw a record crowd of 19,266 fans jam the Cracker park for the games. He hit two doubles in the second game after getting three for five in the first.

Young Mr. Smithwick Shows Real Courage

Atlanta Youth Makes Pro Debut With Pels Before Record Crowd at Cracker Park.

At old Ponce de Leon park last night—The lighted ends of cigarettes and the flare of matches in the great, massed crowd looked like fireflies.

And before the largest crowd ever to see a baseball game in Atlanta, a young Atlanta kid, wearing the uniform of the enemy club, New Orleans, gave a great exhibition of raw courage. The boys from our town are that way.

Audley Smithwick, a kid from the Atlanta sandlots, was signed Wednesday afternoon by Larry Gilbert, manager of the New Orleans club. Gilbert, his center fielder and his utility man out with injuries, was in desperate straits.

And so Thursday night he was tossed in there—the first man at bat in a game over which there was a great roaring sound from near 20,000 throats.

From the press box he looked white and scared as he had every right to be. It was his first big game. His first under lights, his first before a crowd. It was an acid bath.

He struck out on three pitches.

SECOND TEST.
 That was the first inning. His second test was a defensive one. It came in the second inning.

There was a man on third, Nig Lipscomb, there on a single, an error and an infield out.

Peck Hamel asked one to center field, high into the night. The kid went back for it. It felt and his nervous, eager hands fumbled it. Lipscomb scored.

The scene shifted to the bench. Larry Gilbert patted the kid's back. Told him it would be all right next time. The kid felt funny there on the bench with a lot of ball players he didn't know.

He came up again in the third. He was cooler. He waited and got a base on balls. That was an improvement. He was on first. Bud Thomas and Joe Palamiano, the Cracker battery, watched him warily.

HE IMPROVES.
 And finally they trapped him off and he was out.

Still, he had improved. And then the acid grew stronger. They began to give him test after test. Five fly balls were hit to him. He caught them all.

He doubled to center field.

In the eighth he was up again. He sacrificed to help the Pelicans go ahead of the Crackers. The Crackers came back later to smash ahead and win. But from that start in the first inning Audley Smithwick had proved his worth. The bath was acid. But he met it and beat it.

It was quite a night. It saw Atlanta set a new minor league attendance record of more than 300,000.

If you were not one of the almost 20,000 at the baseball park last night to see those Pelicans and those Crackers play and to set a new attendance mark, you may be interested in a few of the social notes on the party.

A great many of the guests came early. The park was half filled at 6 o'clock, an hour and forty-five minutes before the first game of the double-header began. They made themselves comfortable and looked happily at the late arrivals who had to take less choice seats.

Streets leading to the park were well filled with people walking to the game an hour before it began. Father and mother and the kids were all on parade. Some of them carried cushions. And in most of the cases instead of being near and there was some excitement. An ambulance took her away.

The crowd had hardly filled up the park before the first fainting case occurred. They happen at every big game with the inevitable mob in the park. One of the cases insisted death was near and there was some excitement. An ambulance took her away.

BEARS DEFEAT COLLEGE STARS BEFORE 77,000

Manders' 27-Yard Field Goal and Safety Wins Game, 5-0.

By Charles W. Dunkley.
 CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Chicago's Bears walloped the college All-Stars, 5 to 0 before 77,000 spectators in a game that was finished in a driving rainstorm in Soldier field to night.

Jack Manders booted a 27-yard field goal from placement to register the first points for the Bears in the first period. In the fourth period, Shepherd, of Western Maryland, played brilliantly for the All-Stars, fumbled a pass while center while attempting to punt from behind his goal line, but recovered the ball in the end zone for a safety, adding two points to the Bears' total.

The Bears, seeking revenge for being held to a scoreless tie by the collegians last year, outplayed them to night in a battle that was marked by great defensive work.

The collegians threatened only once, staging a thrilling rally in the fourth period to batter their way to the 27-yard line. The professionals repulsed four rushes at the line and punted out of danger.

THE LINEUPS.
COLLEGE ALL-STARS: Hutson, Alabama; Blaine, Ill. West; Shotwell, Pittsburgh; Barber, San Francisco; Pugh, S. M. U.; Knepper, Minnesota; Shepherd, Maryland; Mitchell, St. Mary's; Kasha, Minnesota.

PROVISION WINS OVER ACME, 3-1
 The Goodyear Mills, from Ato, Ga., rallied to overcome an early lead assumed by the Chattanooga Methodists and won 3 to 1, in the first game at Grady field last night in the FERA diamond ball meet.

Lindsey led the attack for the winners with a home run in the eighth, scoring one ahead of him. A homer by Hill, triple by D. Hughes, and double by B. Hughes were the features for the Tennesseans.

In the second game two of the best Georgia teams in the tourney staged a well-played, snappy contest. The Columbus Provision Company won, defeating Acme Laundry, also of Columbus, 3 to 1.

Sparkling fielding abounded, with the work of Morgan, at shortstop for the Provisioners, and H. Cook, catching for the losers, standing out above all others. The winners collected only three hits against the Laundrymen's five, however they were more timely.

MRS. VARE GOES IN SEMI-FINALS
 MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The home folks got their thrills in job lots today as two of Minneapolis' golfing "babies," Patty Berg and Collette Barrett, joined Mrs. Glenna Collette Vare of Philadelphia, the tournament's champion of champions, and Charlotte Glutting, of West Orange, N. J., in the semi-finals of the national women's championship.

Out of a series of golfing drama, played in a drizzling rain and featured by Miss Glutting's 2-and-1 triumph over Mrs. Ogel S. Hill, veteran campaigner from Kansas City, Patty and Beatrice, a natural southpaw in everything but golf, swept in from opposite brackets.

Butter, only 18, galloped in with a surprising 4-and-3 conquest of Marion MacDougall, the Portland (Ore.) brunette, who upset Mrs. Maureen O'Connell Crews yesterday. Patty, a freshman from St. Louis, won her match from Mrs. Dan Chandler, of Dallas, Texas, by rolling a mud-caked ball uphill 40 feet and into the cup for a birdie. Patty actually won 2 up, but conceded a 25-foot putt to the Texan which put the result into the official records books as one up.

Kincaid Is Victor In Last Half Race
 GRIFFIN, Ga., Aug. 29.—Kincaid won the last half of the Middle Georgia Trolley League today by defeating Silvertown, 8-4. A six-run rally in the eighth, including Roy Ratliff's home run with two on, featured the game.

Stewart won his eighth victory of the half, relieving Parker in the fifth. The championship series starts Saturday with Kincaid meeting East Griffin in East Griffin.

TONIGHT
NEW ORLEANS
LADIES' NIGHT
8:00 P.M.

19,266 Jam Park; 'Gate' Now 305,027

Atlanta, the record-smashing baseball city of the minors, didn't quite crack the Birmingham single-game attendance mark last night, but it managed to break two more of its own while handing the New Orleans Pelicans a double licking before 19,266 persons to increase their first place lead to four full games. The score of the first game was 8-3 and that of the second, 5-3.

While they fell just a few short of the Birmingham record of 20,078 set in a Dixie series game of 1931 when "Dizzy" Dean opposed Ray Caldwell, the greatest baseball fans in the minors put two new marks on the rapidly-mounting logbook of President Earl Mann.

SETS SEASON RECORD.
 The crowd brought Atlanta's total attendance for 67 games of the season thus far to a grand total of 305,027, thereby shattering the league's all-time attendance mark for one season, which was the 296,150 established by Birmingham in 1927.

It also was the largest crowd ever to witness a ball game, or two of them, in Atlanta's history.

In the first game—a duel of the Thomas boys—"Bud" Thomas of the Crackers won his nineteenth victory of the season in outlasting Bill Thomas and two other Pelican pitchers, giving the visitors only eight hits.

In the second, short-armed Bobby Durham, hurled his fourteenth triumph of the season in limiting the Pels to five hits.

BEATS 'EM ALL.
 But getting back to that crowd. It made all the city's other big baseball crowds look like so many pikers. It presented a solid circle of humanity, packing the grandstand and bleachers to overflowing and then stringing out, making a complete bend around the centerfield bank, where the portable

Clyde Williams and Jack Phillips Sign Pro Grid Contracts

TWO TECH STARS LEAVE SATURDAY FOR NEW POSTS

Join Stumpy Thomason on Brooklyn Dodger Squad Sept. 4.

By Jimmy Jones.

Two of Georgia Tech's best-known football stars are going into the pro football ranks this fall. They are Clyde Williams, of Little Rock, Ark., sturdy tackle of the Jackets for three seasons, and Jack Phillips, of Waynesville, N. C., line-ripping fullback who was one of the nation's outstanding ball carriers in the season of 1933.

Both boys have signed on with "Shipwreck" Kelly's Brooklyn Dodgers, of the National League, and are scheduled to leave for their new jobs on Saturday.

Practice for the pros will start on September 4.

POPULAR PLAYERS.

Williams and Phillips, two of the most popular players in the history of Tech, were standout performers on several otherwise ordinary Tech teams. They also were co-captains of the 1934 Engineers.

With little "Shorty" Roberts, the quarterback, and the Wilcox brothers, they managed to keep a losing Tech team prominently in the headlines last year.

Phillips, however, failed to reach his brilliant 1933 peak when he led his team to a national championship.

Since leaving Tech, Williams has been employed by Firestone in one of their Atlanta branches. His services have been sought by several leading pro teams, but it remained for the Dodgers, partly owned by Kelly, to make the most attractive offer.

WILLIAMS SIGNS.

Williams did not sign a contract until a day or so ago, while it is understood that Phillips has been signed up by the Dodgers for some time.

Tech, incidentally, will have three representatives on the Brooklyn team this fall. The veteran "Stumpy" Thomason, who has been a member of the Dodgers backfield for six seasons, is returning for another season of campaigning with the pros.

Professional football has grown considerably in the east and attracts large crowds. Many southern players, including several from Tech and Georgia, have seen their lot in this spot after leaving college.

THE PORTLIGHT

By Krautman Rice

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—A summer sky overhead—September still around the corner—pennant races five weeks from the finish—and yet 80,000 spectators with football tickets and the same vocal thunder that once belonged only to big November games.

This is turning into a fast game when you have football sideline gossip in August. But here it is. Two of the main spectators at the big Chicago Bears College All-Stars show at Soldier Field were Elmer Layden, of Notre Dame, and Bob Zuppke, of Illinois. Each has a killing handle in the way.

The same is Ohio State. Layden's Notre Dame tackles the Buckeye Typhoon November 16. Illinois wades in November 16. Layden looks on this battle with dark forebodings.

"We'll have the backfield," he says, "but I can't figure a line now to show that Ohio State powerhouse Ohio has about everything a football team needs—weight, power, speed and experience. We haven't the line. Not yet, anyway."

Zuppke, of Illinois, coach, painter and philosopher, will make no such concessions. "Last fall," Zuppke says, "we were supposed to be outclassed in this same game. We were outwitted from 20 to 25 pounds to the man. But we were beaten by only one point, a goal after touchdown, in a game we might as well have won as lost. I've been up against these killers before. Some of them beat me—but sometimes we take them."

"Illinois was up against a much bigger killer in 1916—Minnesota—one of the greatest football teams I ever saw. This team had slaughtered every opponent from 40 to 60 to 0. But we managed to scramble through with a lot of little gains. I won't say this will happen again—but there's always a chance."

The first big Zuppke-Illinois adventure comes October 12 when they move out to Los Angeles against Howard Jones' Southern Californians. I played golf with these two coaches last winter, when Zuppke advised Jones to keep an eye on his flying trap and his whoa back. Zuppke is one of the canniest of all coaches, now the dean of the Western conference staff. Each opponent has to be everlastingly on guard against some unexpected turn or play that may break up any game.

Eastern football delegates on the Chicago firing line are already discussing the early meeting of Princeton and Pennsylvania after a break of some 40 years' standing. This game, October 5, at Princeton, is already tabbed as a sure sell-out. And it might easily be the toughest game the Tiger faces all year.

Penn had a good young team last fall, which will be much better this season—a team with a big, fast backfield and a much improved line. It outstanding success. Doug Wyckoff played with several clubs. The latest southern to win a national notice as a pro player is Battle Feathers, of Tennessee, leading ground gainer of the Chicago Bears and the country last year.

RED ENLOE BOWS TO YOUNG REESE IN STATE MEET

Kels Boland Is Winner as Tourney Enters Quarter-Finals.

By Jack Tray.

The big news from the tennis front out at the Biltmore club, where the annual state tournament is advancing between the raindrops, is that Marion (Champ) Reese has finally conquered his old bugaboo and Louis (Red) Enloe at one and the same time.

Young Reese, who is fast becoming established as one of the city's leading players, used a lot of strategy to eliminate Enloe, public parks champion and seeded No. 6.

The match was postponed Tuesday after one set had been played. Reese won the first set, 6-3. Rain kept them from playing Wednesday, so they resumed their battle yesterday afternoon.

Enloe, hitting his shots well and serving mostly to Reese's backhand, won the second set, 7-5. And Red won the first game of the third set on his own service.

STARTS THINKING Reese did something that might hurt a lot of people. He began thinking, "I am winning my own service," as he was about to serve. He thought, "I am winning my own service," as he was about to serve.

Which is exactly what he did. Reese won the match, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1. Red's hard services in the last set to win the set, 6-3.

The scores in order then were 6-3, 6-1, 6-1. The match also featured passing shots by Reese. The young brother of Kels Boland, No. 1, defeated Russell Lee, Miami, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, No. 1, turned back Dr. Glenn Dudley, 6-4, 6-4.

There were only three matches remaining in the third round of men's singles and in the other two Dr. Kels Boland, No. 1, defeated Russell Lee, Miami, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

QUARTER-FINALS Hendrix, who has a powerful service, puts a lot of topspin on the ball, which bounces high and right at the receiver. His overhead game also is frayed with danger. He virtually murders the ball.

Today's quarter-finals schedule is very attractive. There are two matches at 3 o'clock. Kels Boland and Melon Courts, defending champion and No. 2 seeded, and Champ Reese take on Hudson Hamm, of Miami, seeded No. 3.

Two 6 o'clock matches bring together Hendrix and Hank Crawford, and Jack Simpson and Jimmy Halverstad.

There are six seeded players left in the quarter-finals. Junior singles matches progressed smoothly.

Second-round junior results: Russ Holbit defeated Elliott Smolen, 6-1, 6-1. John Dreger defeated Gordon Enloe, by default.

De Rufington defeated Art Mayott, August 27, 6-4, 6-2. Alex Guerry defeated Weldon Selesky, 6-2, 6-0.

Marion Reese defeated Al Redd, 6-2, 6-2. First-round junior singles results: Ernest Vandiver defeated Fred Sleep, by default.

Billy Gillespie defeated Gordon Kiser, 6-2, 7-5. DOUBLES Hamm and Lee, No. 3, defeated Wynn and Moore, 6-2, 6-2.

Robbitt and Enloe, No. 5, defeated Campbell Gillespie and H. Everett, 6-1, 6-3.

Lindsay and Tulin, No. 2, defeated Treathan and Brown, 6-4, 6-4. Chambers and Simpson defeated H. Anderson and Jack Teagle, 6-4, 8-6.

Reese and Hendrix won by default over Dudley and Brown. In women's singles, Betty Mathis rather distinguished herself by taking a game from Dot Brown. Miss Brown beat Betty, who is a newcomer to tournament play.

Junior singles will be played this morning, beginning at 9:30. Doubles will be played in the afternoon.

Women's Meet In Second Round. BY BETTY MATHIS.

First-round play in the women's singles division of the Georgia tennis tournament at the Biltmore Tennis Club got off to a fine start yesterday afternoon despite the morning's rain, with all but two matches completed.

Mrs. Rita Taylor Coyne, seeded No. 1, and Mrs. Ralph Marlowe, No. 2, played their second-round matches, having advanced from the first round on ties. Each won good matches with a display of fine shots and smart court tactics.

Mrs. Coyne defeated Eleanor Wyatt, of Cedarhurst, 6-1, 6-2. Mrs. Marlowe won from Elizabeth See, 6-4, 6-2. The Marlowe-See battle was a real fight. They both worked hard for each point and played some fine tennis.

See's draw was rather unfortunate because her game warrants progress beyond the first round.

Emory Wood, of Athens, and Peggy Lowe were playing their second-round match when darkness forced them to stop. Sets were one-all. Both won their first-round matches by default.

Miss Margaret Cohen and Miss Louise Fowler, of Covington, seeded Nos. 3 and 4, respectively, drew first round byes and have not yet played.

First-round matches are to be completed at 10 o'clock this morning. Second round play begins at 3 o'clock.

CHICAGO WHEAT FAILS

TO MAINTAIN UPTURNS

Sept. 18.85 18.80

By FRANKLIN MULLIN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(P)—The wheat market today gave the best demonstration of rallying power of the week but prices were unable to

After midsession values advanced more than a cent above early lows on buying, some of which was associated with advices from Canada indicating losses from rust, hail and frost damage might exceed expectations. The upturn was not maintained, however, in the face of rather persistent hedging and scattered liquidation attributed to eastern sources.

At the close wheat was 3-8 cent lower to 1-4 higher, compared with the previous finish; December 89 to 89 1-8, and corn was 1-2 off to 3-8 up. December 56 3-4 to 56 7-8. Oats were 1-4 down to 1-8 up, rye 1-8 off, and barley unchanged to 2 cents higher.

The fact that the Labor Day holiday was observed on the full day of day is near, to be followed by the September delivery period, tended to restrict trade. Many operators confined themselves to evening up activities. There was also a tendency to await release of the private crop estimates next Wednesday. Announcement of the Canadian wheat board's ment of the Canadian Wheat Board's marketing policy, with Canada occupying a prominent position in the world wheat situation, was further delayed.

lighter offerings gave the market a firm tone for the time being. Some buying was credited to milling interests and pit gossip attributed some of the selling to a prominent eastern trader.

A rally of September corn from the lowest point since April had a sympathetic reaction in wheat. New crop options, however, lost ground. Approach of the delivery date with uncertainty as to available supplies was sighted as a reason for irregularity, while early strength in deferred deliveries was associated with

P. O. GROUP TO MAP CONVENTION TODAY

Executive Committee Will Meet This Morning to Make Final Plans.

Plans for the nineteenth annual convention of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks will be completed today when the national executive board meets at 9 o'clock this morning in the Anshel hotel.

The convention opens here Sunday and continues through the week with more than 3,000 delegates expected. Leo E. George, of Washington, president of the federation, will preside over the board meeting. Members also will discuss administrative business of the organization. William Otto, secretary-treasurer, and John M. Terka, assistant, are the other members of the board already here. Gilbert E. Hyett, legislative representative and editor, is expected in time for the meeting, as are the following regional vice presidents: Harry C. Weinstock, Philadelphia; John H. Mitcham, Spokane, Wash.; Karl L. Stimson, Indianapolis; Carl E. Friessold, San Francisco; Charles U. Fentiles, New Orleans; Miles Ventresca, Miami; Warren W. Harvey, Omaha; Emmet Whelan, Boston, and Herman Goldstein, New York city. Members of the Atlanta local also are completing their plans. They welcomed the first visitor yesterday, Arthur B. Nicholson, of St. Louis, formerly of the Atlanta postoffice.

SHIPBUILDING YARDS REOPEN AFTER STRIKE
CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 29.—(AP)—The New York Shipbuilding Company yards, shut down for three months by a strike, reopened today with 3,600 workers back on the job.

Roy S. Campbell, general manager, announced that 3,385 workers, "clocked in" on time when the yard gates swung open for the day shift, and that some 250 others would be on hand for the operation of the two other shifts.

SECONDARY ROADWORK TO ABSORB LABORERS

Second-class road projects, apart from Georgia's main highway system, will absorb unemployed laborers in various parts of the state this winter, according to Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state PWA administrator.

"The roads we will improve are merely farm-to-market projects where they are badly needed. This road program, Miss Shepperson emphasized, will 'have nothing in the world to do' with the federal-state highway disagreement, but the WPA road projects will be undertaken on a larger scale than before to absorb laborers now working on malaria control drainage.

HEMLOCK CUP TAKEN BY THIRD ESTHONIAN

REVAL, Esthonia, Aug. 29.—(UP) Leopold Osta, robber-murderer, chose suicide by cyanide potassium in preference to execution today. He died instantly after drinking his hemlock cup. He was the third Esthonian permitted to be his own executioner.
